A black and white photograph of a man, likely a teacher or lecturer, standing in front of a chalkboard. He is wearing a light-colored, short-sleeved button-down shirt and a dark tie. He is gesturing with his right hand, pointing towards the chalkboard. The chalkboard is filled with faint, illegible markings. In the foreground, there is a desk with some papers and a small object, possibly a pen or a small container. The overall tone of the photograph is professional and educational.

THE RED BLUFF UNION HIGH SCHOOL first opened its doors in 1897. At that time the entire student body consisted of 79 students who were taught by the original two teachers. From its first humble home in the upper floor of the current Lincoln Street School, the high school was eventually moved to the stately brick structure on Franklin Street, where the building served as a school-house and public auditorium until 1964, when it was condemned for unsafe building procedures. This started a community controversy over the solution to the problem which was brought abruptly to an end when the building burned in August, 1964. The school was left with only the remaining three wings and two gyms in which to conduct school, thus the only solution being two years of double session. Double session prompted immediate steps toward passing a local bond issue to provide money for the construction of new classrooms and a badly needed gym. At school, the "Youth for Yes" Committee, headed by five senior students, began its own organized campaign, one of its efforts a campaign parade in downtown Red Bluff. Finally the bond was passed, and there resulted yet another year of double sessions, but high hopes for the future.

At Last— A Gym!

A lump of pride settled in the throat of each Senior on the first day of the 1966-67 school year. The opening day assembly was to be held in the newly completed Spartan Gym. Memories flooded back of miserable double session days, the clatter-bang of construction crew, and coolers that operated like heaters and couldn't be turned off. Finally the Gym was completed and ready to facilitate everyday activities. The Gym was dedicated at the annual PTA "Back-to-School Night" meeting. Besides doing its duty as an athletic gymnasium, the building is used for rallies, assemblies, and productions by the Drama department.

THE DRAMA department was first to use the stage in presenting "A Christmas Carol."

THE NEW administration office is enhanced by an abundance of flowering plants.

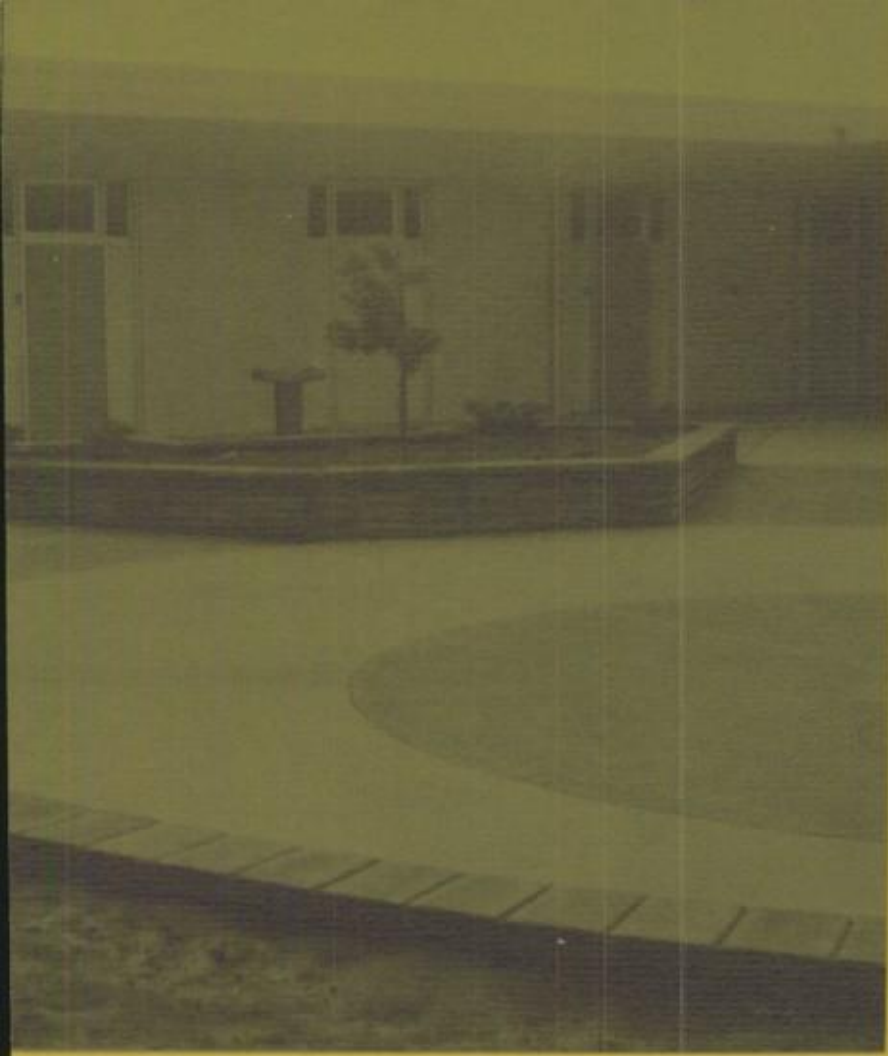

During the last few years, Red Bluff High School has received an entirely new look. The condemnation of the old building required new classrooms to be constructed, which resulted in the area now commonly referred to as "the quad." It also demanded a new administration building which houses the main office, the principal and vice-principal's offices, and the counseling center. The school has actually received a "new look," yet as years pass, and building structures change to meet modern demands, the high moral and academic structure of Red Bluff High School remains indestructable.

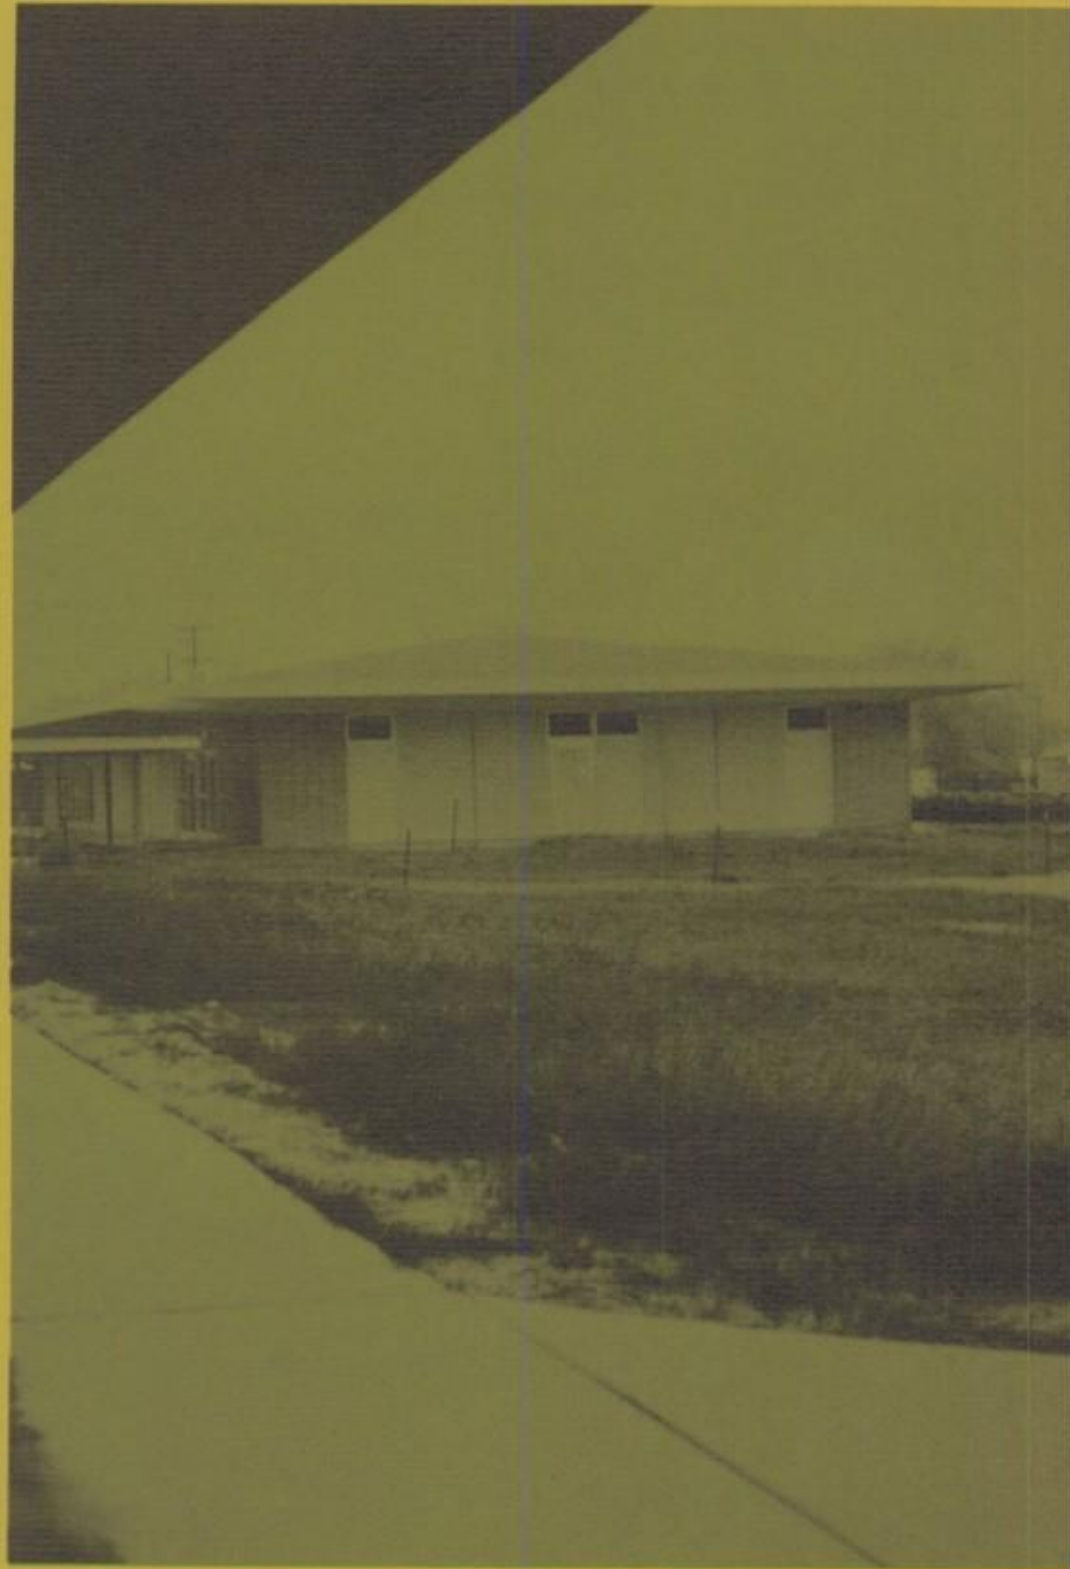

"THE QUAD" is now ings to dances.

MANY STUDENTS enjoy the hot lunches served daily in the school cafeteria.

THE VENDING MACHINES offer a variety of soft drinks as well as "goodies."

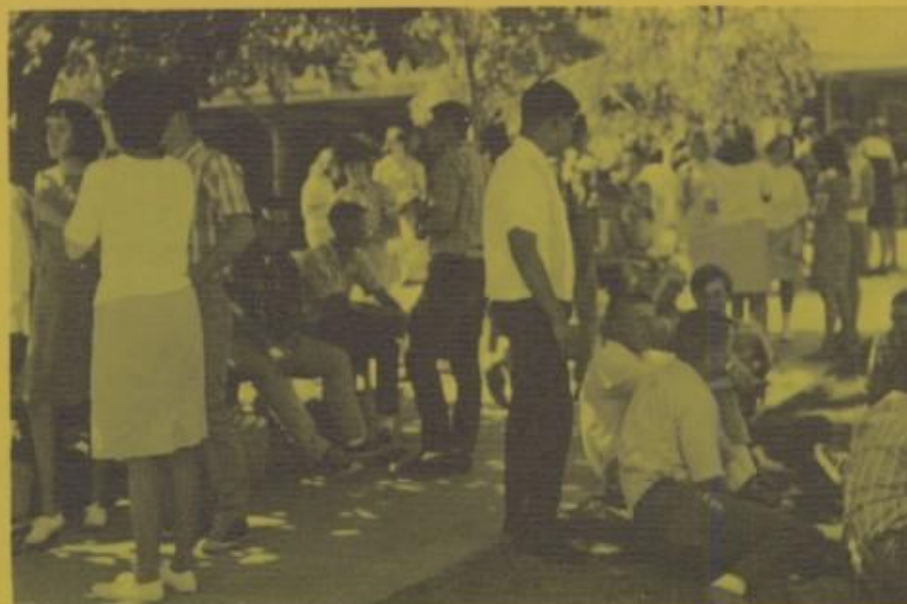

THE SNACK BAR meets the tastes of students who prefer not to eat a large lunch.

THE FIRST double lunch period offered the songleaders and cheerleaders a chance to boost spirit for the upcoming game.

Lunchtime

Lunchtime has many aspects at Red Bluff High School. Students have a choice of eating the cafeteria lunch, eating at the snack bar, grabbing a bite from the vending machines, or bringing their own lunch. On warm days, many students choose to eat outside and relax a while before attending their next class. Then there are those who choose to turn lunchtime into playtime. Senior boys, especially, can be counted on to dream up something to pass the time. When Student Council sponsored the double-lunch period contest to promote cleanliness on campus, the students all pitched in to clean up after their lunch in order to win. The happy victors were the 5th period lunchers. On that day, the songleaders and cheerleaders led the student body in a pep rally to promote school spirit for the upcoming game.

SENIORS TAKE advantage of free time to relax before attending their final classes.

THE SENIOR BOYS organized a game of "baseball" with a tennis ball and a $5.00 chemistry book as equipment.

MOST 5TH PERIOD lunchers pitched in to help win the contest.

CARMEL GROWNEY can always be counted on to help a "worthy cause."

MANY STUDENTS even decided to clean windows as did Dave Dais and Bill Gaines.

Mr. Kelly

As Red Bluff students enter the high school, they are given Word Wealth Junior and a College Entrance Examination Board list of required vocabulary words. They are expected to learn, not memorize, these words, as they will continue to have them plus many more before the end of their high school life. There is a different C.E.E.B. list for each year, and the seniors must be familiar with all of them, as well as the Word Wealth book.

Stress on novels is also introduced in the English classes and in World Literature. Novels from different countries and time eras are studied.

Recently composition has come to play a major role in the studies of the students. Emphasis is placed on correct usage and formation of words and phrases in sentences.

PANEL DISCUSSIONS on various novels are given in the senior college preparatory English classes.

MAP STUDY is a major part of the freshmen social studies course.

Department Directs Intensive Social Science Curricula

The freshman year of Social Studies is the study of World Geography, followed by World History in the sophomore year, U.S. History in the junior year, and finally, one semester of required civics, which is state and local government.

In the junior year one semester is spent on the study of Tehama County History with field trips to many of the special landmarks in our county. Term papers are required during this time on some special aspect of the county history.

In the senior Civics classes, the students have the opportunity to hear the City Manager, Herb Nelson, speak on city government, and firemen Grant Tupman and Bill Witt tell of the fire department. Other classes were visited by Assemblywoman Pauline Davis and Bob Shriver.

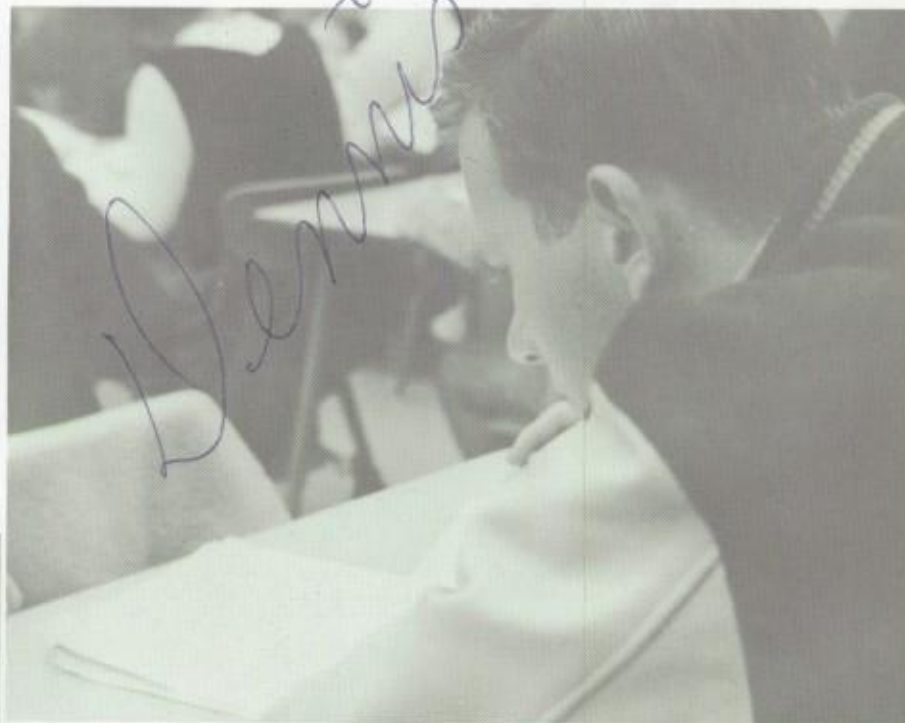

Many junior and senior students seek the Sociology course which helps students gain insight into the development of man.

Mathematics Department Diverse Mathematics Courses Offered At R.B.U.H.S.

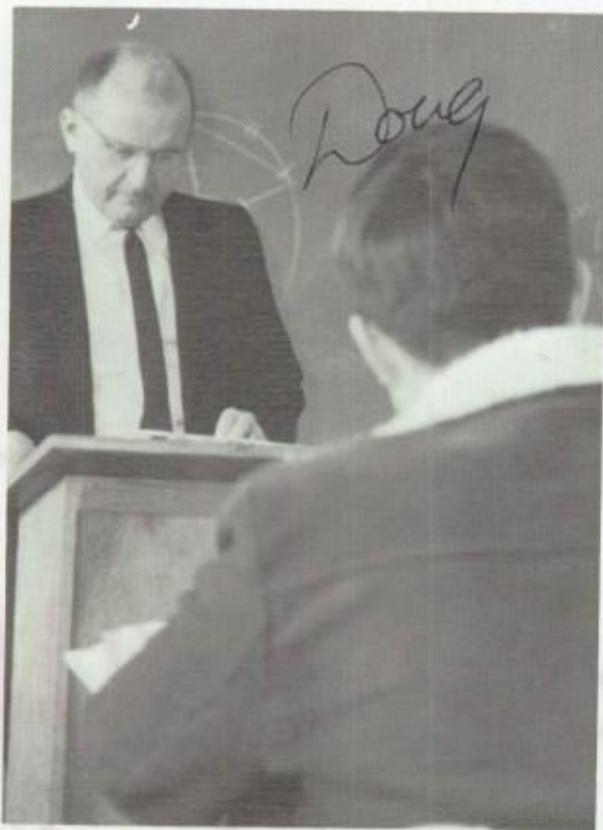

The ho-hum doledrum math has finally been whipped! Courses offered at Red Bluff High School are various in degrees. For the person who wants just the basics, there is general math. For those who wish to continue there is Algebra I and II, Geometry, Trigonometry, Analytic Geometry, and Math Analysis.

Recently, with the beginning of new math in the grammar schools, high school math has changed to suit the times. It certainly is no longer the math it used to be.

Science Department Science Projects Entered In Science Fair

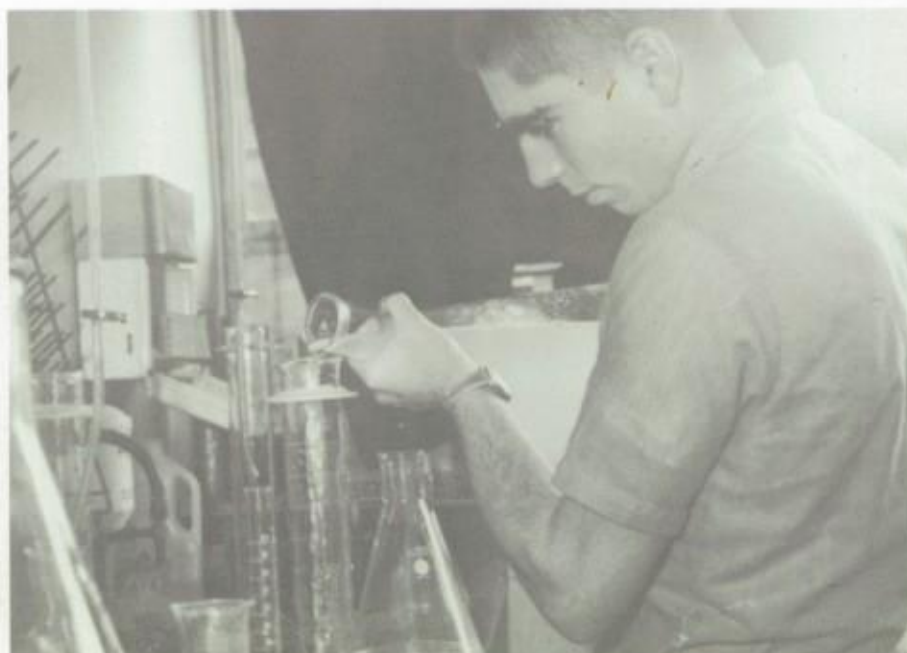

Fascination and challenge are the components of the field of science. These are carried out here at the high school with experimentation, dissection, and science projects. Experiments by the students are performed in Chemistry more than in the other science classes.

Dissection of cats and frogs and studying their anatomy are the major activities in the Biology I and II classes. Science projects are year-long experiments by Biology and Chemistry laboratory assistants. They are very interesting, and are usually entered in the Chico Science Fair.

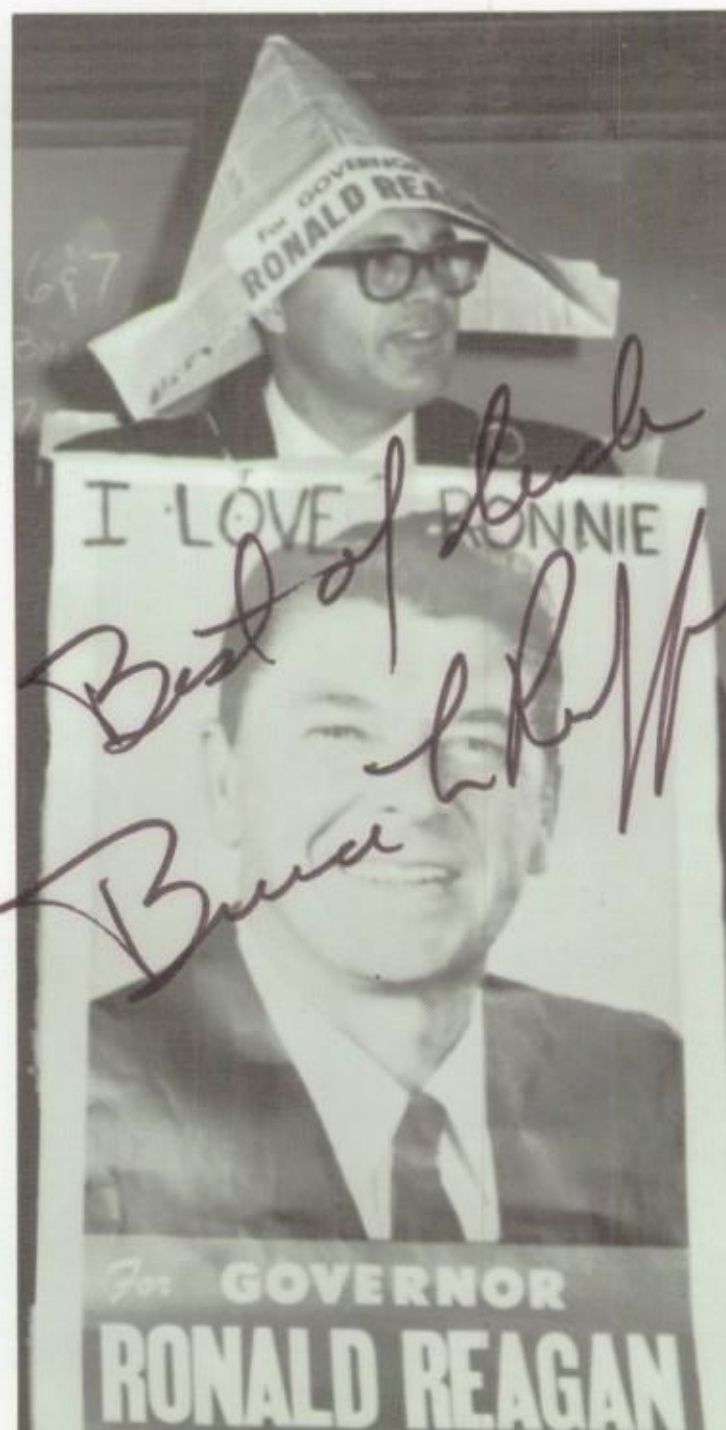

BIOLOGY TEACHER, Bruce Ruffner, displays his fondness (?) of a political candidate after losing a bet with Robin Povey.

Both the Boys' and Girls' P.E. teachers looked forward to the completion of our new Boys' gym, since such an improvement meant better facilities for both departments. With the acquisition of the new building, the boys are able to enjoy the conveniences of a modern locker room and equipment, one of which is the weight-lifting and work-out machine. Parallel bars and the gymnastic horse added a new challenge of special skill and coordination necessary to perform on this equipment.

New to the agenda of activities in Girls' P.E. was the game of field hockey. It provided great fun, excitement and skinned shins.

Cookies, Kids Compose Home Ec.

Cookies, casseroles, and kids are part of the home-making courses offered. The first semester is usually spent in the kitchen cooking various sorts of appetizing foods. During this time, a complete dinner is scheduled, prepared, and served to invited guests. With our amateur home-makers, it often proves to be a very interesting hour.

Part of the year, the course deals with the family and child behavior. A nursery school with children ranging from the ages of 1-5 years is set up and gives students an opportunity to get first-hand look at the behavior of smaller children.

Senior Homemaking, which is a combined class of senior boys and girls, follows the same schedule with the additional aspect of home budget planning.

MRS. PARSONS gives special instructions to a student in her kitchen classes.

Special Education Department

A Kaleidoscope Of Subjects

A variety of educational and supplementary subjects form the Special Education department. Such subjects as band and drivers' training give students an opportunity to extend their education beyond the required subjects.

The continuation class enables students to continue their education while not actually attending the regular school session. They have the advantage of going to school part of the day and possibly working the other part.

Superintendent Metteer Retires After Years Of Service

Mr. William Metteer began his career in 1938, as the Teacher-Principal of a school in Hammonton, a small hamlet in Yuba County. He moved to Red Bluff in 1943 to assume the job of Principal of Lincoln Street School and Superintendent of the Elementary district. Mr. Metteer attained the post of Superintendent of Red Bluff Union High School District in 1955. As District Superintendent, he has the general responsibility of the entire education system. Upon his retirement this year, William Metteer will leave behind him many years of dedicated service.

Members of the Red Bluff High School Board of Trustees give their time freely to direct the operation of our school district. The conscientious efforts of these elected officials have been ramrods behind the growth and progress of our school. The Board consists of five men: Chairman, Dr. Wm. Concluding over sixteen years of service in the school office, Mrs. Jean Shearman has decided to retire and reassume her role of homemaker; she will now be able to devote full time to her husband and eight year old daughter. Beginning her career here in 1939, Mrs. Shearman was a high school senior working part time after school and on Saturdays. She was hired on a full-time basis after graduation. Her dependability and guidance will be missed on the office staff.

Carrying on the tradition of efficiency in the office is Mrs. Lois Bowser, who assumed the duties of Mrs. Shearman, Mrs. Barbara Bunting, and Joan Rishel. Some of the everyday duties performed by these ladies are typing up the daily bulletin, keeping the school attendance records, and supervising club finances. Our school could never operate smoothly without their help.

"WHERE COULD I have put that eraser?" wonders Mrs. Jean Shearman.

JOAN RISHEL tells Mr. Salisbury that Mr. Metteer is on the line.

Nurse Heals All Ills

Miss Wiggett's door is always open to ill or questioning students. Many Spartans pass through her office each day and each seems to feel a little better because of her patience and care. Our school nurse works hard to make sure that each student gets his eyes and ears tested during the year. Red Bluff High would not be the same without Miss Wiggett and we thank her for her many hours of service.

CONSULTATION WITH authorities assures Miss Wiggett that she is doing her best to promote health at Red Bluff High.

Stricken by the loss of their quarterback, Jerry Kloose, because of a broken leg, the varsity football team managed to finish the season with a 6 - 3 record, placing fourth in the Northern Athletic League. End-turned-quarterback Malcolm Manwell, did a great job of filling in the vacancy of quarterback. When sophomore Tom Good was moved up from the J.V. team, Manwell was allowed to return to his position of end where he continued his fine performance. Dan Redden, gaining a measurable amount of yardage when he received the ball, sprained his ankle, causing major concern for the team. On the sidelines with a bumb knee was starting lineman Stan Combes. Along with Dan, Jerry, and Stan were Bob Tipton who was hurt in practice, and Craig Moller who broke his leg. Even through the trying accident proneness, the team placed four players on the all conference team. The members on this team included George Robson, Al Lingenfelter, Dan Redden and Malcolm Manwell.

Spartans Win All Non-League Games

THE SPARTANS ground out Reno for their second victory. Among those making exceptional effort on defense were Jack Burgess, David Tow, and Al Lingenfelter. The score of this non-league game was 7-0. Above, Manwell is blocked by the Huskies.

ONE OF THE toughest battles of the season was against the Ashland Tigers. The famed passers from Ashland were blanked by Red Bluff's defensive action. The final score was 16-0 with Red Bluff coming out on top. Above, Manwell gains yardage for Red Bluff.

IN THE FIRST GAME of the football season the Spartans tromped Enterprise 34-13. Linebacker Al Lingenfelter, backed by the defensive line, was outstanding in the match, upsetting many of the Hornets' strategic plans. Below, a Hornet ball carrier is downed by the Spartans.

ALTHOUGH the Sparks game appeared tight, the statistics show that Red Bluff was in the lead all the way. The Spartans held the Railroaders to minus yardage until the fourth quarter. The total ground yardage for the Spartans was 388 yards as compared to 35 yards for the Railroaders. Below, Redden flees from an apparent attempt to be tackled by a Railroader.

Red Bluff Shows Up Central Valley; Hassels With Shasta

ENTERING league play with a record of four wins and no losses, the spirit of the team members was high, leading them to defeat the Central Valley Falcons 45-13. Central Valley, placing second in league play was beaten by only one other team, Anderson.

DAN REDDEN is taken down after a fourteen yard gain in two carries.

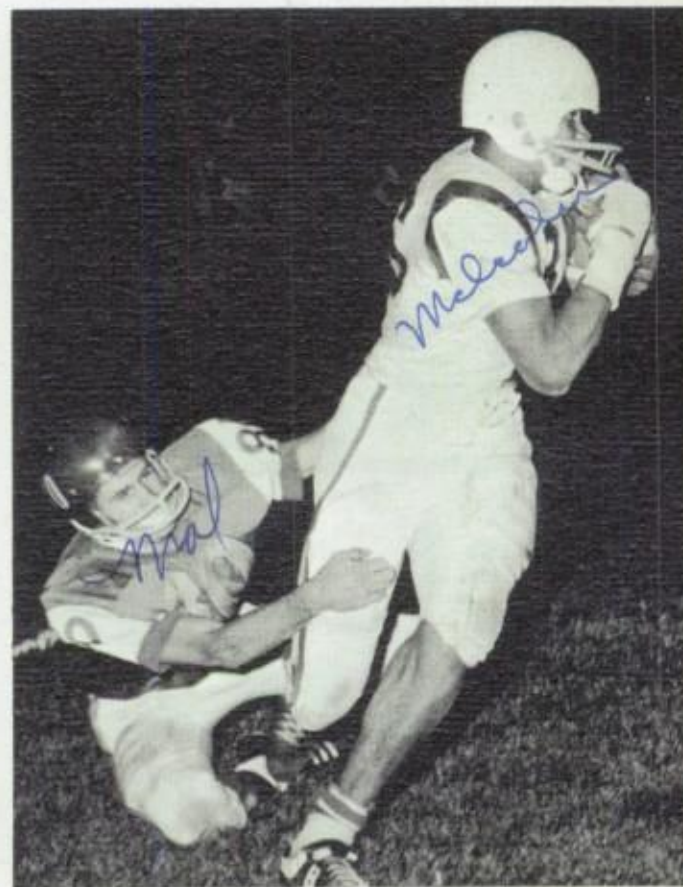

HOMECOMING on Spartan Field was the setting for a match against the Shasta Wolves. With Dan Redden out with an injured ankle, and Craig Moller out for the season with a broken leg, the team had need of a strong defense. They did a good job in spite of injuries.

SPARTAN MAL MANWELL is not easily downed, as it takes three Wolves to pull him off of his feet.

JUNIOR, Jim Alford narrowly escapes being tackled by a Central Valley Falcon, and races eleven yards to tally a touchdown for Red Bluff.

MANWELL successfully stops a Wolf from gaining needed yardage.

THE ANDERSON CUBS, defending champions, ran over Red Bluff in the second game of the N. A. L. 1966 football season. The Cubs, on their own field, felt at ease as the Spartans tried their best to hold their line. Anderson's Steve Mellow seemed too fast for any defensive work planned by Red Bluff.

APPARENTLY not enough action,
such as this displayed by Bill Gaines, was taken against the Cubs, as the opposition came out on top.

ENTERPRISE came to Sparta seeking vengeance since the Spartans swarmed over the Hornets in a previous contest. The duration of the encounter was a touch-and-go affair terminated by a victory for the opposition.

PLAYING their first and only afternoon game, the Spartans rallied with Chico to win 41-6. The crowd was very large considering the inclement weather. The total number of points made by the Spartans by the end of the season was 61 above the total of those made by their opponents.

SPARTANS KEPT control of the ball in the Anderson game which they won 66-57.

Members of the Varsity basketball squad were on their toes throughout the season. A bit of superstition seemed to conquer their spirits as they were taken by the Yreka Miners 72-29 on Friday the thirteenth of January. At the end of the encounter with the Chico Panthers the Spartans had a streak of luck as junior, Doug Dreier, in the last second of the game, shot eighty-one feet to tally two additional points for Red Bluff.

JIM TODD grabs for the ball as other Spartans prepare for defense.

STEVE PAULISSEN shoots for two more points in spite of hinderance from opponents.

“SPIRIT, SPIRIT, We’ve Got Spirit!”

To promote school spirit, "spirit week" was originated and each class competed against one another in cheering, decorating certain sections of the school, recruiting passengers for the rooters' buses, and wearing green and gold. Also, spirit was attained at rallies when peppy cheerleaders and songleaders rallied Spartan voices in rousing cheers. Accompanying the songleaders was the pep band, a group of boys--Ron Nelson, leader, Gail Turner, Larry and Terry Huber, Mike Whalen, Andy Holmes, Randy Zumalt, David Shinn, Steve Shelley, Terry Catching, Jerry Henderson, Monty White, and James Fielder--who on their own time assembled and provided music for the rallies and games. With the aid of the rallies and vigorous support of the pep band, the school has attained a higher caliber of school spirit.

KAY WALKER

Igniting the spark to spur the Spartans to victory, cheerleaders led yells for the enthusiastic crowds. Mascots boosted the leaders and provided added zest in their effort to support the team. Having spent an exciting week at the Sqaw Valley Cheerleader Camp, Lee Krom, head, and Susan Boer, assistant, were introduced to numerous different routines and yells which they later conveyed to the other varsity cheerleaders, Kay Walker, Sylvia Forsmann, and Rachel Thompson. Their duties as cheerleaders ranged everywhere from wrapping goal posts to painting and marking the rooters' section at the football games.

The Mascots, Jeanne Reid, Shari Hall, and Linda Eubanks, circulated through the crowds during the football season in an effort to promote enthusiastic participation in Spartan yells. They performed stunts to display their exuberance throughout various parts of the game. The cheering of the cheerleaders and the incessant yelling of the mascots at the grinding gridiron battles brought victory to the Spartans at many games.

Promote Pep

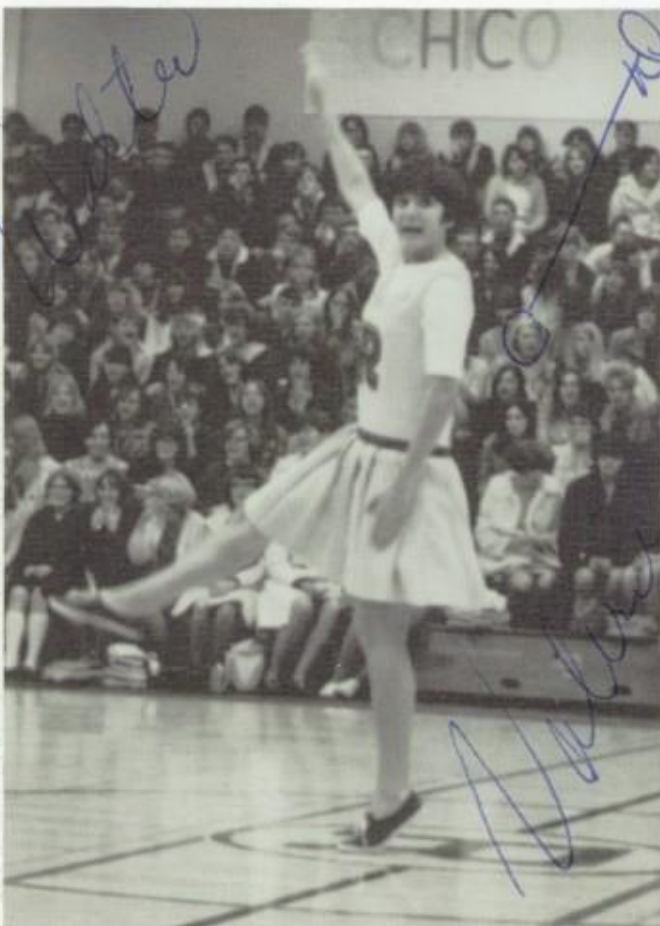

The cheering of the Sparbabses to victory by the junior varsity cheerleaders, Valerie Saunders, head, Kay Blackwood, Marbry Thorn, Robin Povey, and Roberta Boer, proved very rewarding. These five girls incited spirit at early evening foot-ball and basketball games.

Liveliness was added to the spirit of the crowd when the songleaders, Pat Gier, head, Jerry Younger, Tina Gow, Ellen Hendricks, Tricia Jarrell, and Carla Ritter pranced vivaciously to tunes played by the pep band. The team's successfulness was proved by the incessant yelling and singing that the cheerleaders and songleaders prompted from the rooting section during both foot-ball and basketball seasons.

"LET'S GO Mighty Spartans," says Lee Krom, Varsity Cheerleader.

STUDENT COUNCIL plans and directs the activities of the student body. It is comprised of the student body officers, representatives from each club with a written constitution, and the president and representative of each class. Fifteen members of our council participated in the Northern Athletic League Student Leaders' Conference in Anderson. There were three N. A. L. Conferences, one after football, basketball and baseball season, which our Student Body President and Secretary attended. The council sponsored the first dance of the year, Spring Swing, Sadie Hawkins, and Girls' and Boys' Hush Day. The money collected from Hush Day goes to the Foreign Exchange fund. Students who receive this opportunity to use their abilities today will be the effective leaders of our government in the future.

Senior Steering Drives Class Of '67 To Success

At the dawn of the 1967 school year, the Senior Steering Committee took firm hold of the reins and continued to guide the Senior Class successfully through the year. In December, a committee of sixteen, with their advisor Mr. Peterson, drove to Arcata to make arrangements with the sculptor Hobart Brown about the possible construction of a class gift to the school. The class directories and concessions provided successful money-making projects. A great idea and hard work on the class float for Homecoming paid off with the Sweepstakes prize. Working hard to make this year the most memorable, this committee can truly be called one of action.

Two Students Bring

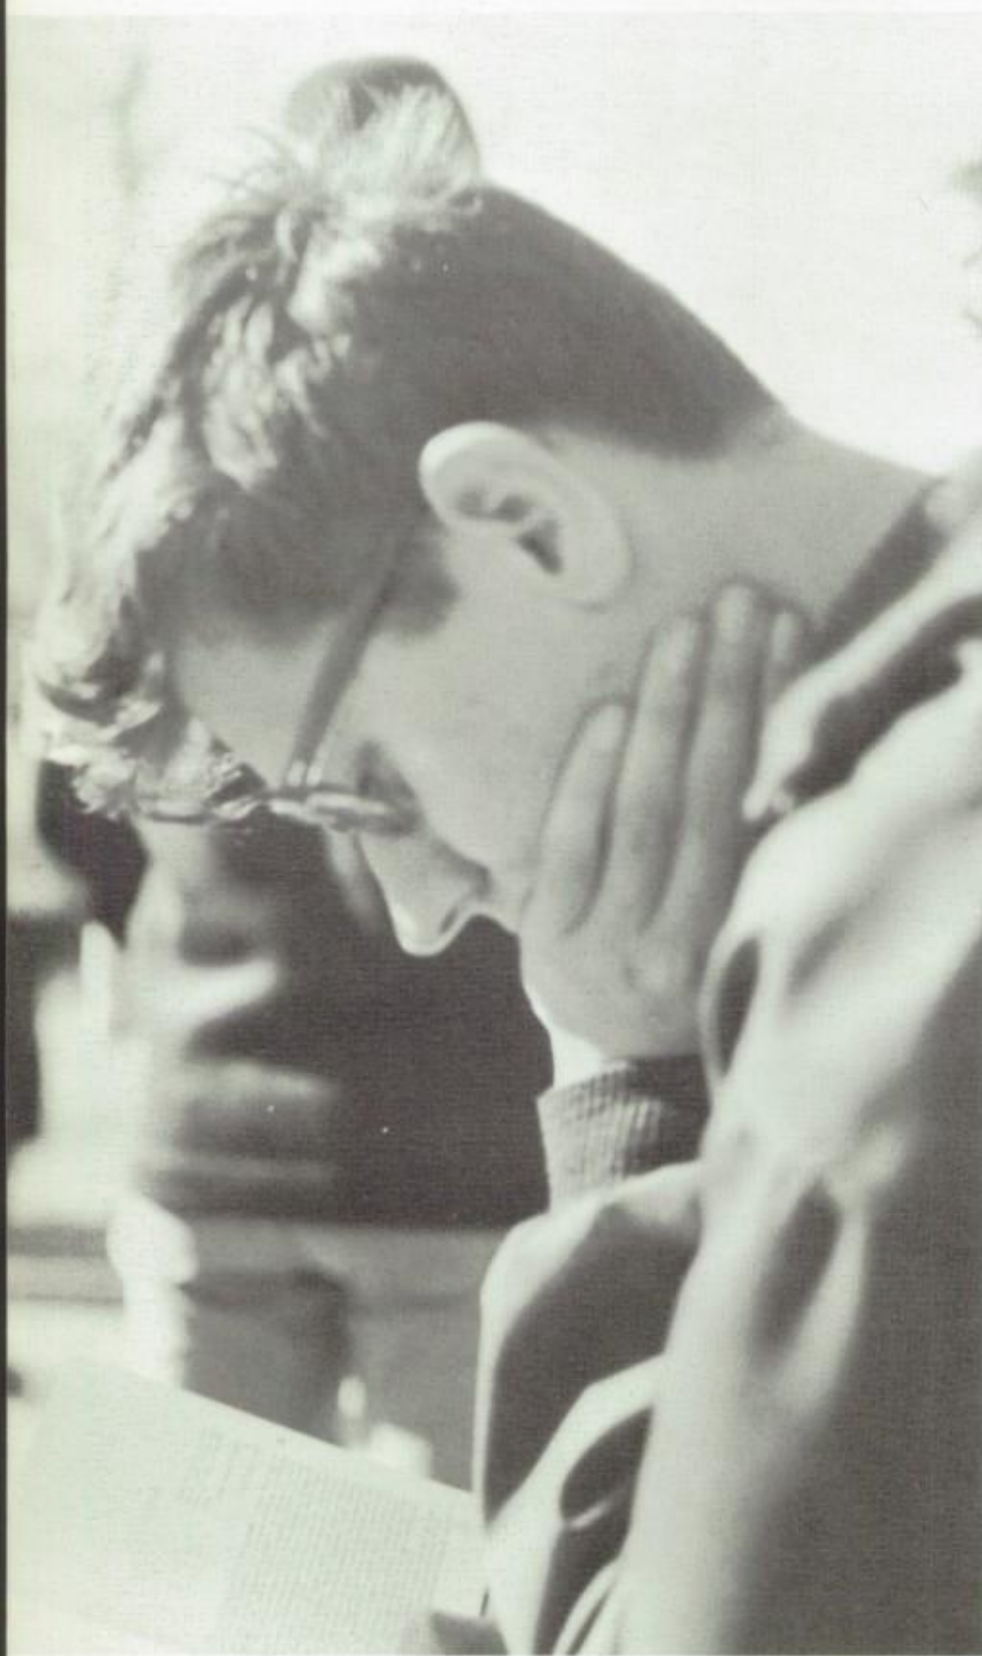

Jürgen Telle Visits From Germany

Having arrived in Philadelphia this summer from his home town, Cologne, Germany, Jurgen Telle began a four-day tour across the United States in a school bus, finally arriving in Red Bluff in late July.

Jurgen is a member of the International Christian Youth Exchange Program and is spending this school year in the home of the Forrest Brown family. The Brown's son, Randy, who was graduated from Red Bluff Union High School last spring, is staying in the household of another I.C.Y.E. member in Germany. Jurgen is strongly in favor of the I.C.Y.E. program because it guarantees a good family with whom to live overseas. He also has relatives in St. Louis who he plans to visit this summer.

At Red Bluff High, Jurgen has participated in several activities, among them Photo Club, Math Club, and C.S.F., and was a member of Student Council. He is a "camera bug," and also enjoys playing classical clarinet.

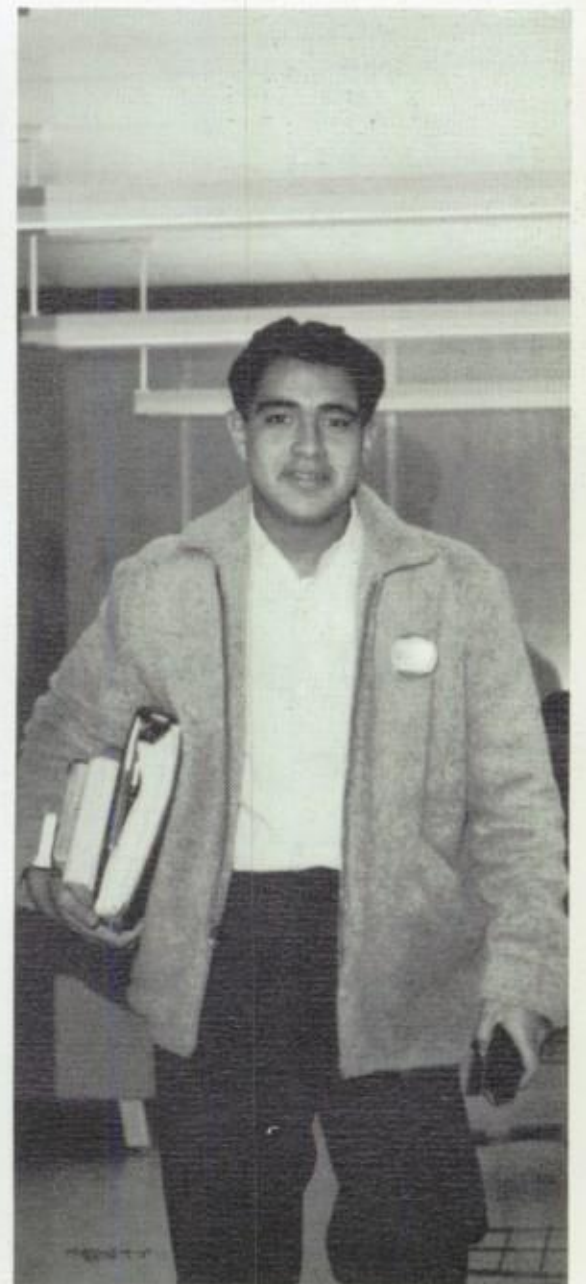

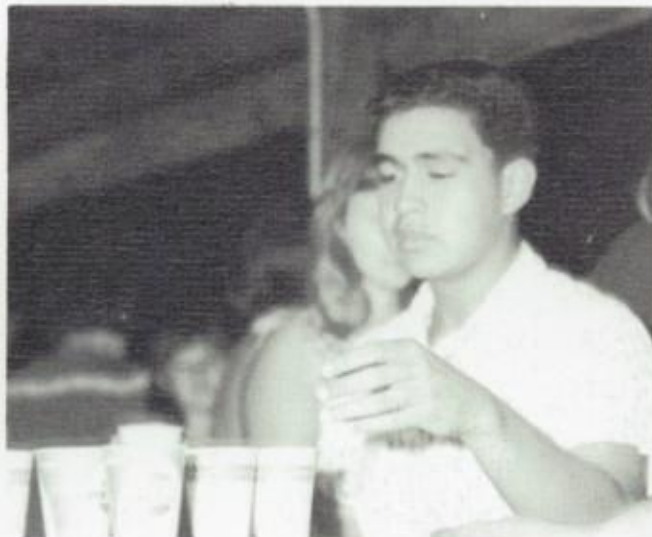

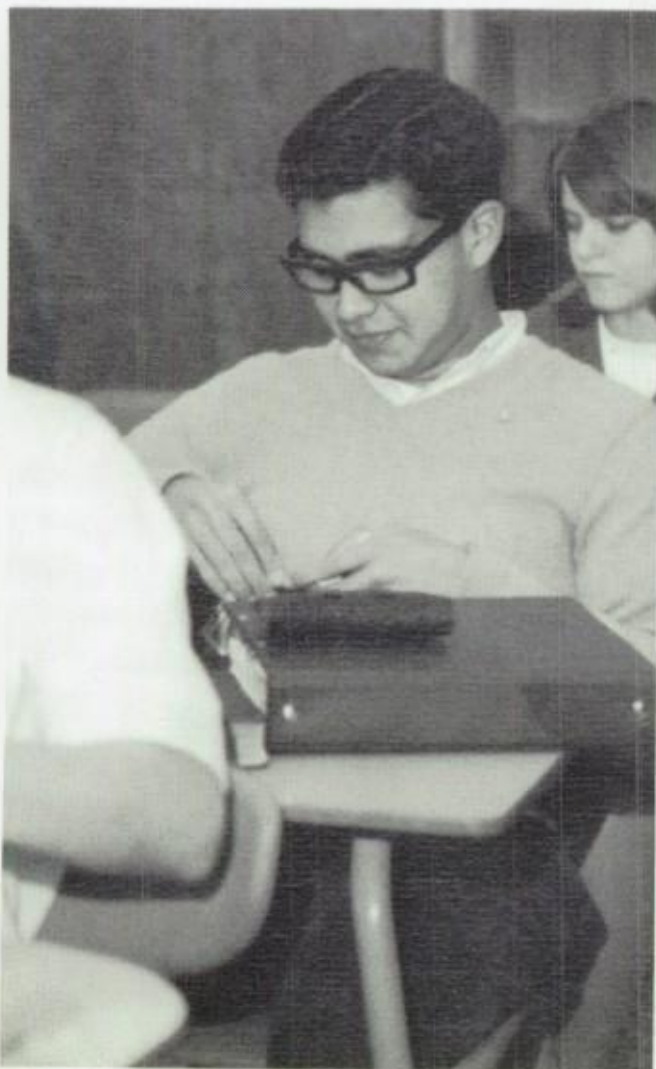

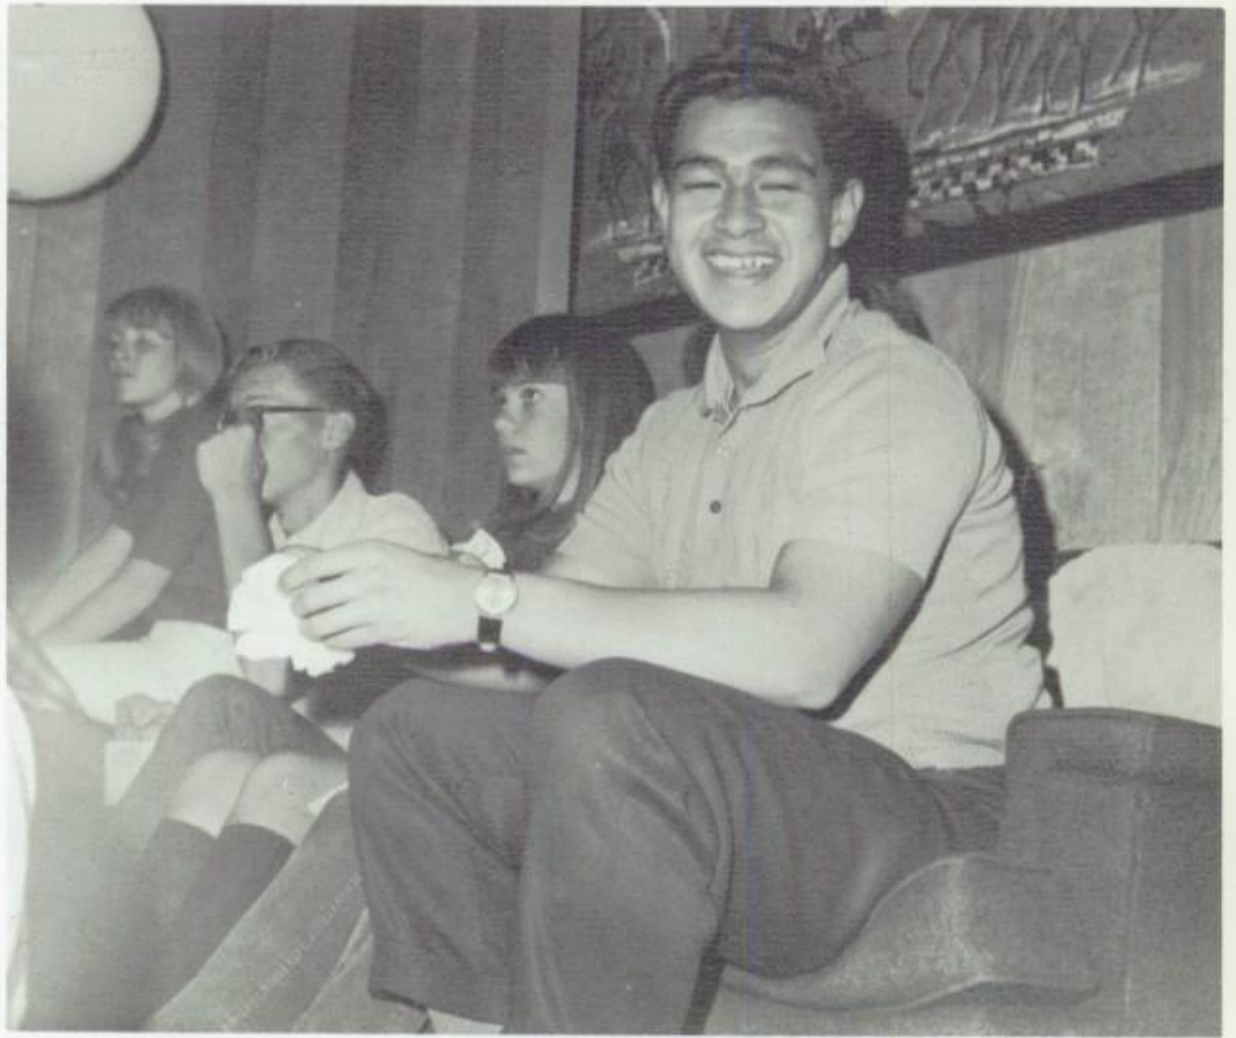

Foreign Flair To RBUHS

Guatemalan Journeys To Red Bluff

Bringing with him the excitement of pinatas and the faint jingle of castanets, Juan Francisco "Paco" Sandoval, AFS student from Guatemala City, Guatemala, arrived in Red Bluff this August to begin an activity packed year in the Ralph Holt household. Besides discovering a realm of friends, Paco has been introduced to a new whirl of activities, including flower parties, class concessions, football, and pizza parties. Bundled up to his chin in heavy sweaters at the first football game, Paco swore he was "freezing," but he soon warmed up to our climate enough to attempt snow skiing at Mt. Lassen. Paco says he likes living in a small town much better than in a city because he is able to get to know more people. We're sure that during his year in Red Bluff, Paco has brought a ray of Central American sunshine to everyone he's met.

Best wishes and a lot of luck,
Paco

Vigorous Effort Results In Banner Publication

Dictum Est co-editors, Susan Boer and Judy Woods, spent many of their summer hours planning ways to improve the yearbook. They got many of their ideas at the Sacramento State Summer Publication Workshop, a weeklong session during which they learned the most effective methods of layout, composition, and use of photography.

The Dictum Est was financed by proceeds obtained through direct sales to students, faculty members, and merchant advertising. There were also minor contributions received from Student Council, and profits made from an after game dance sponsored by the annual staff.

COUNTLESS hours were spent outside of class in creating the yearbook.

TERRY KROM, Freshman editor labors unrelentingly.

JANICE EWING toils inexorably as sports editor.

WEMKEA FARRIS, copy editor, works diligently as deadlines approach.

DALE SINCLAIR, editor of the faculty section, could be seen all over the campus conversing with teachers.

JUDY WOODS, co-editor, points out necessary improvements to Connie Dale, Sophomore editor.

THE PROCEEDS from the student body sales helped to finance the Dictum Est.

TWILA REED, Senior editor, finds that being on the annual staff required tedious work.

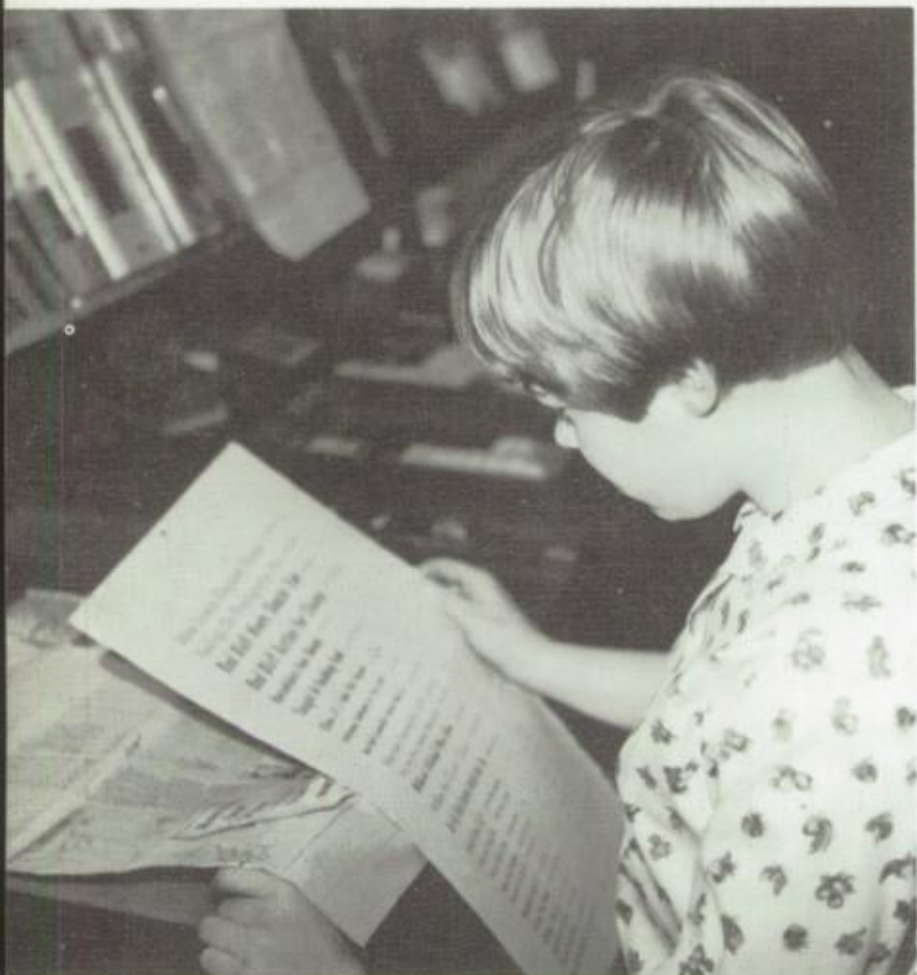

JOLEEN GILLILAND and Betty Lou Garofalo spent many hours laboring in darkness to develop Bluffer pictures.

MARGARET ROSS and Sharon Peart, editor and co-editor, discuss the approaching deadline.

AFTER FRANTICALLY folding papers the entire period, the reporters scattered across the campus to distribute them to the avidly waiting students.

The BLUFFER

Returning home last June from the week-long Sacramento State Summer Publication Workshop, Margaret Ross, Bluffer editor, and Sharon Peart, co-editor, were ready with many new systems to improve the school paper. The first step in the renovation was the designing of a new masthead (shown above) by Mike Metherd. The editors have since then kept their staff hopping--gathering news and scandal to be published school-wide.

DURING the past year one may have seen Joleen Gilliland, photographer, hurrying about taking pictures for the Bluffer.

Senior Entry

"WRING THE WOLVES" was the theme of the Senior Class float which won the Sweepstakes award in the car parade. It was shown to the spectators during halftime of the Homecoming game.

ELLEN EMERY hosted a flower party and gave a lot of help in assembling the Senior float.

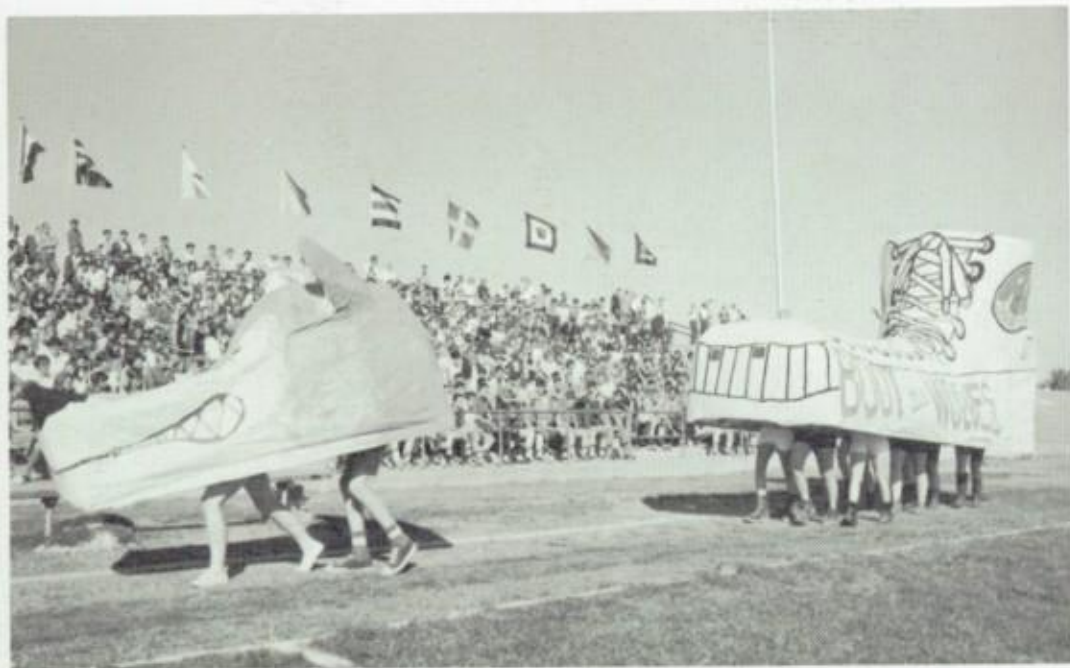

STEVE MUIR made many flowers for the Senior cause.

MANY OTHER Seniors donated much time and effort to the float; among them were Pat Bunting and Jon Hedlund.

Captures Sweepstakes

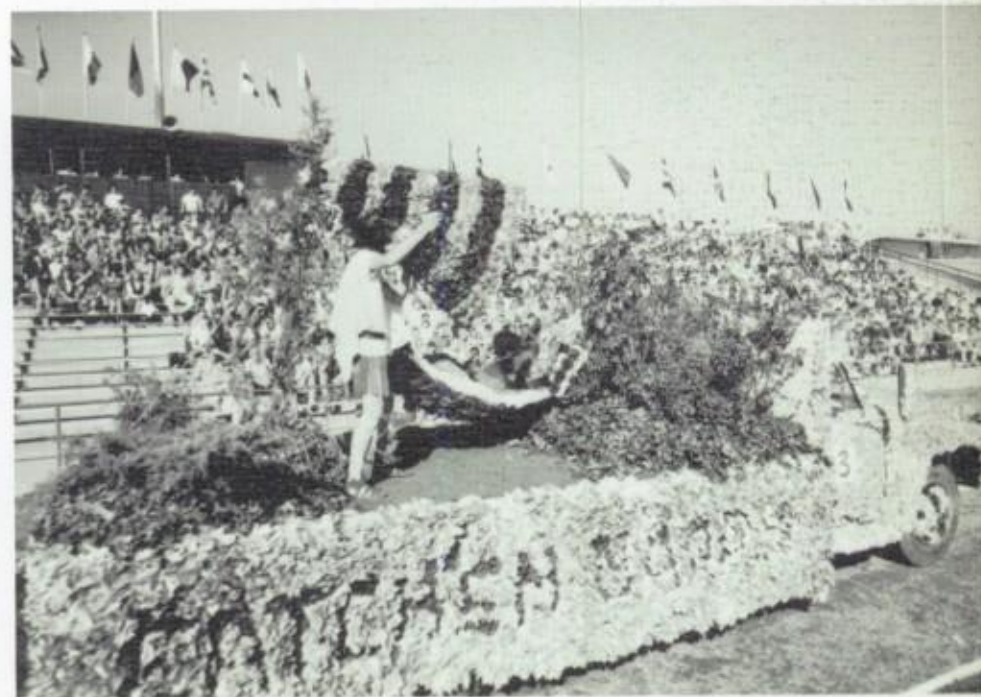

"BOOT THE WOLVES" was the theme for the Art Club's original entry in the parade.

UNDERCLASSMEN gathered in various places to assemble their floats.

Homecoming week at Red Bluff High School is invariably a hectic one. Students attend flower parties, work on their float, and visit other float-building locations to view the competition. Many students also work on club and individual entries. Excitement mounts as the day of the parade approaches, and there is more of a rush to put the final touches on the floats. During the parade, each class cheers wildly as their float passes the judging stand, and each waits anxiously for the announcement of the winner. Since so much hard work and so many long hours are put into the making of each float, it is obvious why the winners are so excited, and are so proud of their efforts.

FOR THEIR first effort, the freshman class chose "Scrub The Wolves" for their theme.

THE THEME of the junior class entry was "Catch 'Em Nappin'."

1966 Homecoming

Spartan Field, October 28, 1966; half-time during the Red Bluff vs. Shasta football game: Dayton Call, Student Body Vice-President, approaches the public address system and announces the candidates for the Red Bluff Spartans' Annual Homecoming. Entering the stadium from the east aisle are Patricia Jarrell escorted by Buck Jones and Lee Krom escorted by Steve Cassel. Jeanne Reid enters from the west aisle with Doug Dreier as her escort, along with Terry Tipton on the arm of Jerry Kloose. The crowd anxiously awaits the moment when the new queen will be announced. As Mr. William Metteer, Superintendent of Schools, steps up to the microphone a hush falls over the audience. He receives the envelope and reveals the name: "The Red Bluff High School Homecoming Queen for 1966 is--Miss Lee Krom!"

Winter Formal

On January 7, 1967, couples arrived at the annual Tri-Hi-Y Winter Formal. "Carousel of Color" was chosen for this year's theme. Members of the organization began planning for the evening and working on committees long in advance, and their efforts were well rewarded by the beautiful decorations and the success of the event. The couples danced beneath a carousel to the music of the Changin' Tymes, and enjoyed refreshments served by pinafore-clad eighth grade students. It was a lovely evening--one long to be remembered by those who attended.

BILL GAINES, Student Body Secretary of Athletics, was in charge of making posters advertising each sports event.

MALCOLM MANWELL could always be found donating his time for various projects.

"EBENEZER SCROOGE" was portrayed Siamese-style for the student body by Brad Thorne.

AS HEAD of the rally committee, Student Body Vice-President Dayton Call was in charge of organizing assemblies.

Honor On Malcolm Manwell

BILL GAINES, Dayton Call, George Robson, and Brad Thorne immediately congratulate Malcolm Manwell upon his being named Tri-Hi-Y Boy of the Year by club president Gail Burchfield.

Highlighting the 1967 Winter Formal was the announcement of the Boy of the Year. Club President Gail Burchfield conferred to Malcolm Manwell the highest honor awarded by Tri-Hi-Y.

Malcolm served his class this year as its president. He was active in football, basketball, and baseball, and was a member of Block "R", Student Council, Senior Steering Committee, and C.S.F. Malcolm is also very active in the C.Y.O.

The other candidates, Dayton Call, Bill Gaines, George Robson, and Brad Thorne, were equally well-deserving of the title.

Dayton was elected Student Body Vice-President, was a member of C.S.F., and was on the swimming team. He is a member of the Mormon Church and participates energetically in its organizations.

Serving this year's student body as Secretary of Athletics, Bill took part in football and swimming and was a member of the Science Club. He was also in the Ski Club, being an avid skier. Bill is a regular attendant of the Episcopal Church.

The student body elected George Robson to serve as its president for '66 and '67. George participated in football and baseball and was active in Block "R", C.S.F., French Club, and on the Senior Steering Committee. He also takes an interest in Episcopal activities.

Brad Thorne, an avid drama fan, performed in various plays produced for the public. He took first place in the Chico Shakespearean Festival for his enactment of a scene from "A Midsummer Night's Dream." Brad took part in football and swimming, and was a member of Block "R", Tennis Club, Ski Club, and the Thespian Society. He is on the executive board of the Presbyterian Youth Group.

AS STUDENT BODY PRESIDENT, George Robson consults Mr. Sale regularly about student activities.

F.F.A. Sponsors Annual Harvest Ball

This year, F.F.A. sponsored their annual Harvest Ball on November 18, 1966. The boys' organization previously chose four girls, one representative from each class, to compete for the title of Harvest Ball Queen. The girls collected votes (a penny a vote) from the time they were selected until that evening. As the moment of announcement drew near, the candidates entered the room escorted by F.F.A. members. Connie Stroing was escorted by Ray Walker, Carolyn May entered with Jim Alford, Michele Tatro was escorted by Mark Patterson, and Brad Allen escorted Jaci Bunting. The suspense was ended as the queen was named, and the room was illuminated by the radiant smile of Michele Tatro as she was crowned 1966 Harvest Ball Queen.

THE QUEEN and her escort, Mark Patterson, lead the dance following the coronation.

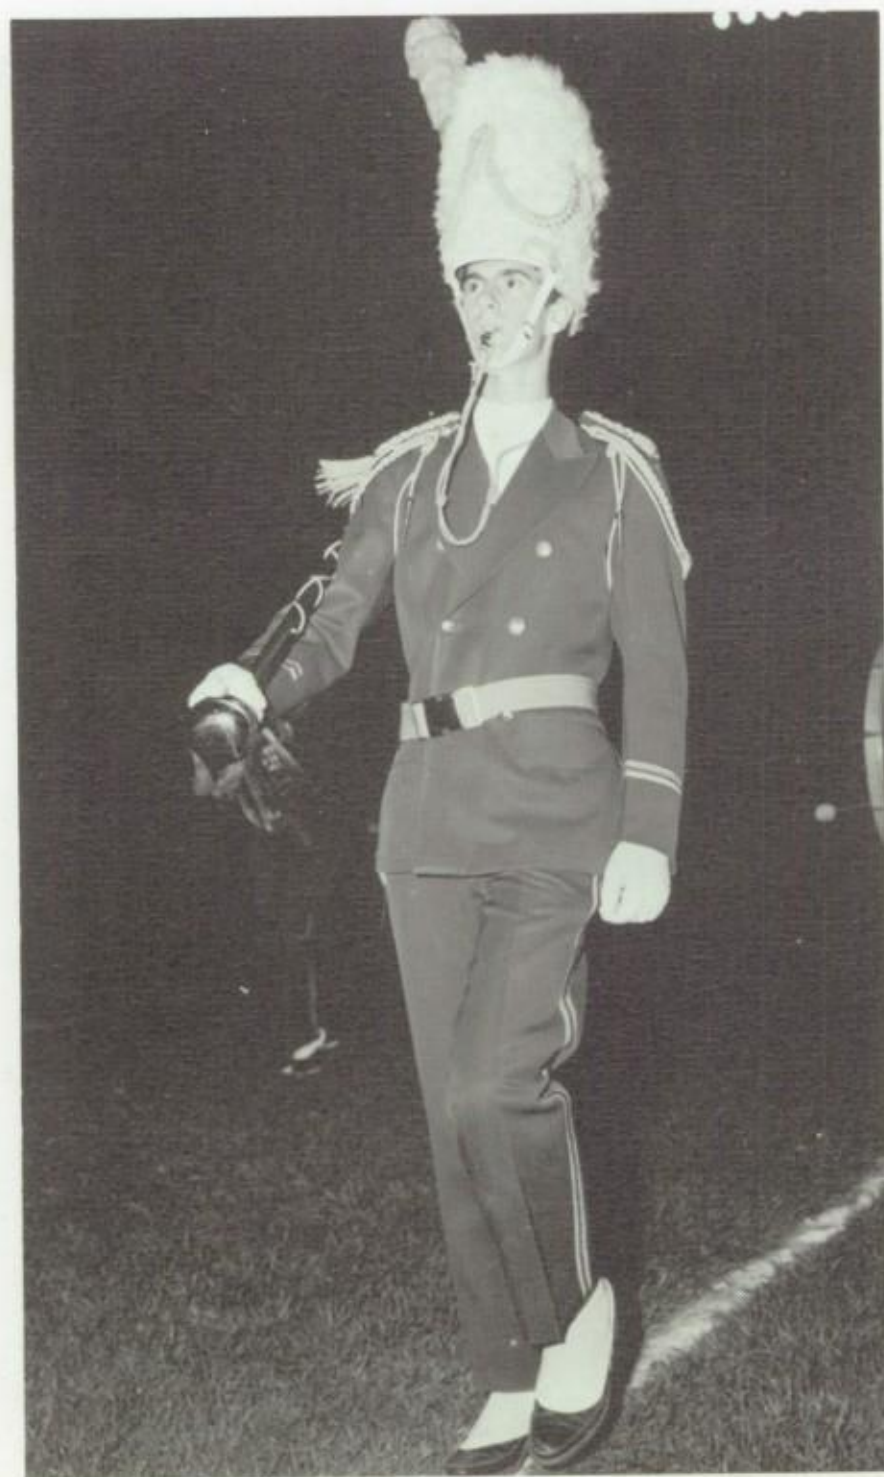

SUSPENSE was ended when Michele Tatro was named the 1967 Harvest Ball Queen.

This year the Red Bluff High School Band has been actively raising funds in order to buy new band uniforms. They collected and sold pop bottles, redeemed stamps, and also took donations of money from interested citizens of Red Bluff. Their goal is to raise $8,000 to replace their fourteen year old uniforms. The band also performed at many of the football games and entertained us with their appropriate selections. At Christmas-time they actively joined into the spirit by playing Christmas carols during the lunch periods.

SANDRA GODMAN weilds a hammer to help construct props.

The major setback of the year came for the recently revived Drama Department as school opened and the class found that they had a new, yet inadequate stage with no curtains. Since the class was unable to secure the use of any of the many stages in town, several of the hopeful dramatists banded together to form the Thespian Club with the objective of raising money for better stage facilities.

In the first attempt to use the stage, the Drama Class put on a successful Christmas skit on the day before Vacation. They also took the chance to present a melodramatic skit at the Kelly Griggs Association's annual "Riverboat Revue."

After weeks of hard work and practice, several groups of students presented scenes in the Chico Shakespearean Festival, a day-long event held at Chico State College. First prize winners were Brad Thorne and Julee Hollingsworth. Class time in Drama is spent studying the many aspects of theatrical life. Students practice voice control and inflection and are given impromptu situations to act. Some days are spent experimenting with the effects of makeup and students learn the fundamentals of stage props and lighting.

Work Experience Program

MR. THORNE instigated and directed the Work Experience Program.

Under the direction of Mr. George Thorne, about forty-five students were placed in on-the-job training positions throughout Red Bluff this year. Under the Work Experience Program, students worked for two consecutive periods each school day and received five credits for the experience at the close of the semester. Their work was evaluated by their employer and graded by Mr. Thorne.

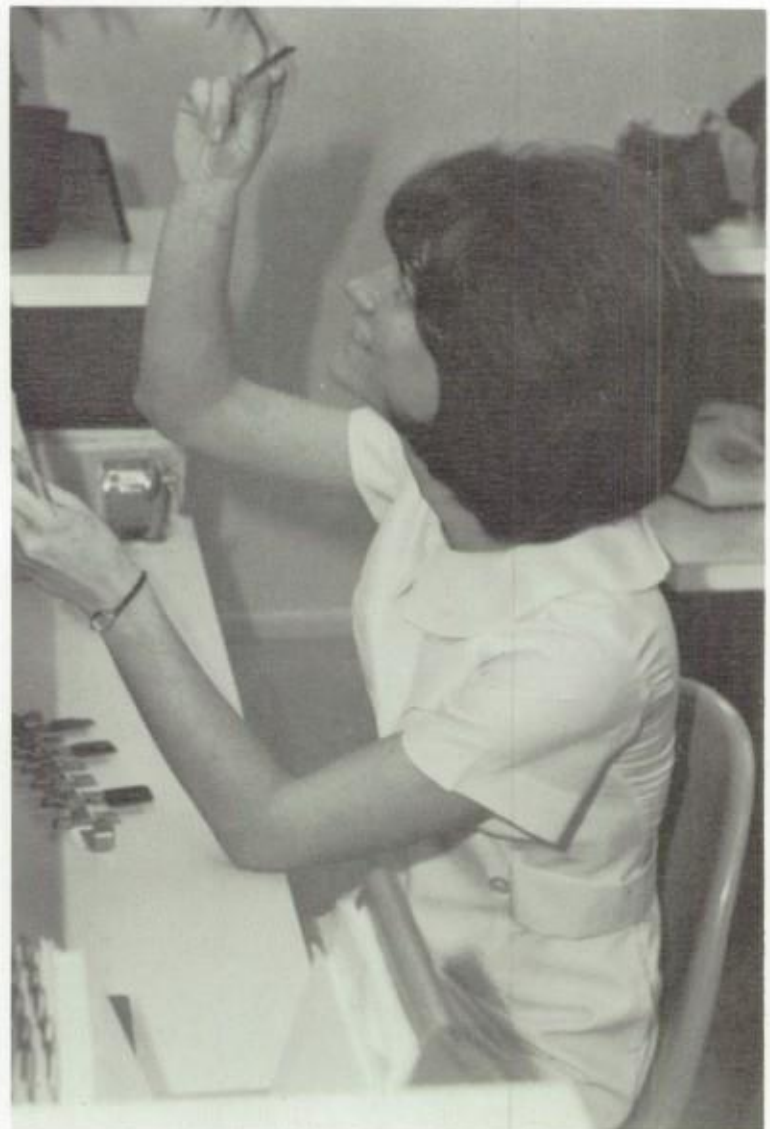

In this program, the student is considered the same as an employee and learns the job through supervised training from skilled employers and fellow employees. Through the program, the high school makes use of many of the community facilities. This year Work Experience students served as teaching assistants, secretaries, gardeners, service station attendants, mechanics, cabinet makers, veterinary assistants, doctors' receptionists, dental assistants, nurses' aids, clerks, photographer's assistant, newspaper reporter, and bank employees. This program costs the taxpayer nothing as the students are taken under the wing of their employer, and the students receive valuable experience of which they would otherwise be deprived. According to Mr. Thorne, "If we had to hire instructors to cover each of these job classifications, we just couldn't do it."

MICHELLE MCGLYNN received business training at Hoyt's Music and Electronics.

TRUDI CROOK received secretarial training at the Water Resources office.

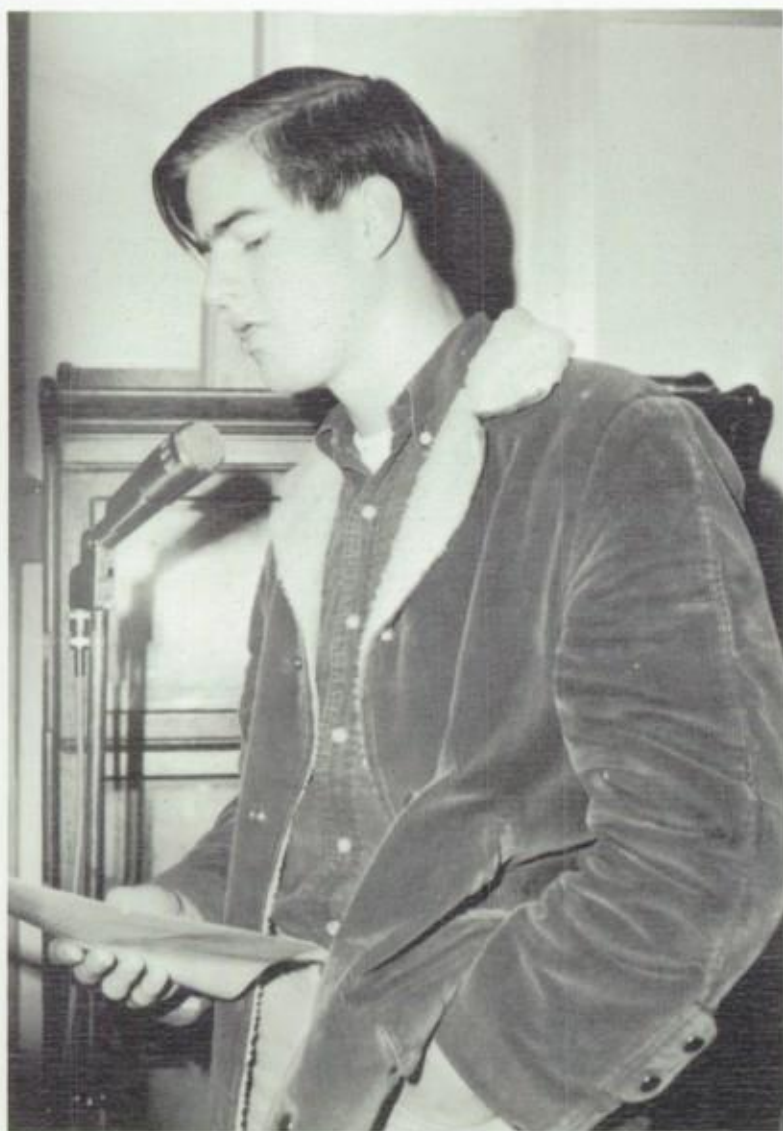

LINDA ARNOLD served as dental assistant to Dr. Don Crawford and also helped Dr. Robert Dunbar in the office.

Radio Broadcasting Has Dual Purpose

Radio Broadcasting is responsible for preparing and broadcasting "The Student Speaks" each weekday at 10:30 A.M. and "High School Highlights" each Thursday evening at 7:00 P.M. The students, under the direction of Mr. Brown, keep the public informed about school activities by means of radio, and in so doing, they form a closer relationship between school and community. Radio Broadcasting also helps train students in speaking and in the use of broadcasting equipment.

SANDEE STOLL related high school events to the morning radio audience by reading the daily bulletin.

In Junior-Senior Night Tilt

CHERYL ABLES captured many rebounds to aid the junior girls in their efforts. Here, Kathy Kerber helps her teammate while Jeanne Reid attempts to tie the ball.

Junior-Senior Night was originated as a money-making project by the senior class. In this annual prespring event, the senior and junior girls contend for superiority in the game of basketball as do the senior and junior boys. As part of the routine throughout the years, the seniors with whom the freshmen side, clad themselves in red and white while the juniors along with their sophomore cohorts don blue and white. Both classes choose songleaders, cheerleaders, and mascots to arouse spirit for their class and to carry out their theme the preceding week and that night. This year, senior originality came up with "The Red Barons" as their theme to represent the victories of a World War I flying ace. The juniors chose for their theme R.A.T.S. (Rapid Annihilation of Tyrannical Seniors) which, spelled backwards, reads STAR.

The girls' game was a touch-and-go affair the entire duration. The first three periods kept the seniors ahead by an average of only two points. The juniors took the lead only twice, and then their glory was short-lived. Extensive fouling during the final quarter granted several free shots which proved initial factors in swaying the score. Spirit, determination, and perseverance on both sides provided for a clean, exciting game for all.

The Junior-Senior Night boys' game left much to be desired by the audience. The juniors tried their best, but their efforts were to no avail. The score in the first quarter was a fairly close 15-9 with the seniors dominating. The Red Barons retained their superiority throughout the game as was exemplified by the 44-24 halftime score. The audience was rather restless during the routine game after witnessing the rapid change-of-pace girls' game. The end of the game revealed that the Red Barons "annihilated the RATS" with a score of 54-33.

Senior Challenge

Mighty Seniors tall, sure, and strong
In all we do we can't go wrong.
We've proved our spirit, pep, and vigor
Every move is backed with rigor.

The Junior class small, low, and weak,
Here's to your future; dimly bleak.
You claim your power to master all,
Let's see you keep from fumbling the ball.

Accept if you dare this challenge we've made,
And get Sophomore support (try bribery paid.)
Now don't get excited and lose your cool,
We learned "chicanery" is a better rule.

Sure you'll practice and eventually shoot,
Aim and miss, and foul to boot.
Try if you will--make it well planned,
Announce Red vs. Blue all over the land.

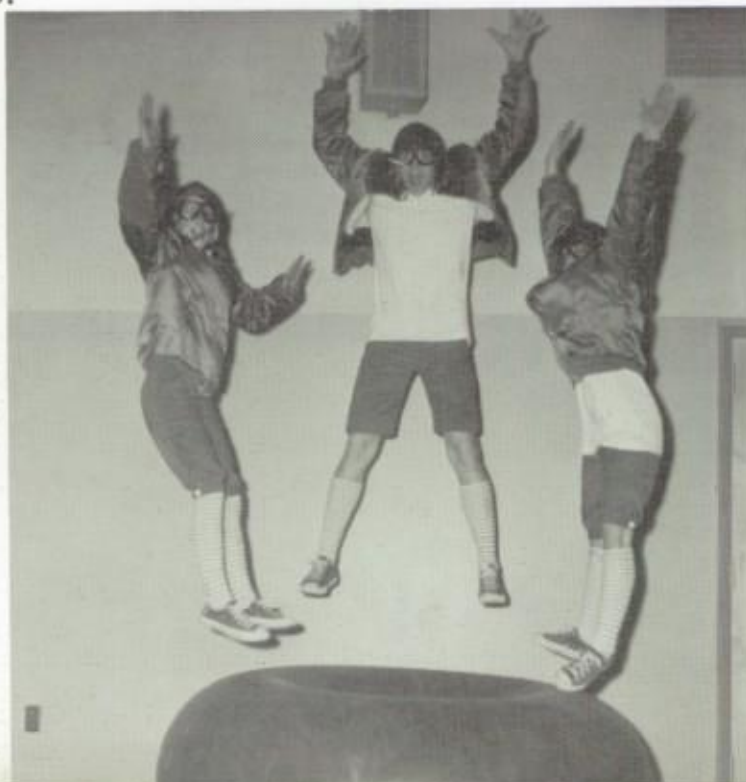

We expect a reply, of course, this you know.
Don't accept too fast, poetry's easy to blow.
Match this if you can, compose a few lines.
Then make publicity, posters, and signs.

Your harbinger faithful, the Bluffer will be,
We're anxiously waiting the result to see.
March 10 we are sure, the date is now set
Meet in the gym sunny, cloudy, or wet.

"SENIOR SUPERIORITY" as opposed to "junior inferiority" is clearly exemplified by the mascots.

RED BARON MASCOTS:
Carmel Growney
Steve Fisher
Joanne Willhite

LOREN MARTINSEN aided the Red Barons to victory by capturing many rebounds.

Junior Reply

Once upon an evening dreary
Five Seniors floundered weak and weary
In a feeble attempt to destroy the Junior Domain.

"Ye gods," cried one Senior in tears,
These Juniors play like Alcindor's peers."
Oh come now--let us not be profane.

Struggling, sighing, bleeding, dying,
The Senior team is vainly trying To break the Junior's offense and reach the impossible score.

Lightly skipping, merrily tripping,
Fleet-footed Juniors are skillfully dipping
Balls through the hoop with a zip! and a bounce!
and a roar!

But remember Seniors that ounce for ounce
It's the spirit of the game that really counts.
Fouling players we class as Finks. . .

. . .for no basketball victory determines the Lord:
The pen is mightier than the sword--
Our poetry passes--but your poetry stinks.

Block "R" Athletes Host Harlam Clowns

An evening of thrills and hilarity was in store for the crowd when the famous Harlem Clowns romped onto the Red Bluff Gym floor to meet in a fund-raising basketball tilt with the spry RBUHS faculty team. Although showing a good game of basketball, the faculty was outclassed by the Clowns and finally joined in the fun to give their opponents good-natured opposition as the Clown score kept rolling on. This crowd drawing game, the first of its kind in many years, was sponsored in an effort to raise money to outfit our traveling sports teams in identical green blazers.

The club, made up of boys who have lettered in a Varsity sport or two J.V. sports, also sold Spartan car stickers to avid Red Bluff rooters. During football season it was responsible for the nomination of the Homecoming Queen candidates and sponsored the Homecoming Dance.

BLOCK "R" CHEERLEADERS were A. Cervantes, G. Robson, C. Moller, V. Parry, and S. Spencer.

CSF Makes Annual Trip To San Francisco

Boarding a school bus at a sleepy 5 a.m. on Dec. 9, over 30 members of the California Scholarship Federation began a two day educational privilege trip to San Francisco. While in the city, the group stayed in the Golden State Hotel in the downtown shopping area. Their schedule included shopping time, a dinner at Fisherman's Wharf, seeing "The Fantastiks" at Ghiradelli Square, and was wrapped up by a half-day visit to Golden Gate Park. The Club also took a tour of the UC Davis campus while enroute to the city.

During the spring semester the club challenged Mercy High School to an evening "Brain Brawl." Students participating from Red Bluff High were Jim Todd, Jim Ramsey, and Glenda Wilson. The two teams were evenly matched, yet Red Bluff went down to defeat when Mercy gained a 10 pt. margin in the last few minutes.

Winter Formal Highlights Tri-Hi Y Year

GAIL BURCHFIELD, President, labored busily to prepare favors for the Thanksgiving season.

SPARTAN CHEERLEADERS found that the Tri-Hi-Y float, "Wolf Repellent" was a great pet to have at Homecoming time.

The 1967 school year was a flurry of bright mums, Homecoming festivities, formals, and service projects for members of Red Bluff's Tri-Hi-Y. The girls, headed by President Gail Burchfield and Advisors Mrs. Kimes and Miss Midgley, launched their busy year by winning the club competition in the Homecoming parade with their float, "Wolf Repellent."

The girls found great pleasure at Thanksgiving time in making favors for the convalescent homes and in delivering them to the elderly people. Christmas came fast, and the club once again found enjoyment in caroling several of the shut-ins of Red Bluff.

January was a month of color as the club presented the annual Winter Formal. This year's "Carousel of Color" proved to entail long hours of work but the end result was a wonderful formal full of brilliant, blinking lights and brightly painted horses on a beautiful carousel. The highlight of the evening came when Malcolm Manwell was named Tri-Hi-Y "Boy of the Year."

Lincoln's Birthday was celebrated with a surprise breakfast given by the officers. Clad in ill-matched pajamas and drooping rollers, the girls were brought to the homemaking room early that day for a morning of food, games, and fun times.

Many other projects were undertaken by the officers and members of this active club. An older girl's conference was attended by several of the girls in the spring. The club kept busy all year with their last activity coming at Graduation as the Junior girls handed out programs to the many guests. The entire year proved to be fun, profitable and one of much service.

Key Club Opens Doors At Red Bluff High

Red Bluff High was honored this year by the entrance of a boy's service club--the Key Club. Headed by Mr. Bruce Ruffner, this new club provided many acts of service to the school and the community. Under the leadership of the president, Doug Freitas, the club kept the Spartan trophy case and trophies polished. All trash cans on campus were painted green and gold by members of the club. The boys agreed to add a masculine touch to the Tri-Hi-Y Winter Formal by helping put up the heavy decorations. Cleaning up after a large meal is not much fun by the Key Club members volunteered their help to the Family Service Agency to clean up after their fund-raising breakfast. This club, sponsored by the local Kiwanis, opened many new doors to boys of our school and proved to be a welcome addition to campus life.

The Girls' Athletic Association had many activities to keep them busy this year. As a money-making project, the girls printed and sold programs during football season. Activities sponsored by the club were held after school every Tuesday. This gave the members an opportunity to participate in such sports as tag football, volleyball, and basketball. Special teams were also chosen to journey to Central Valley for a volleyball sportsday and to Shasta for a basketball sportsday. In the spring some of the members acted as officials for track and swim meets. In these and other activities which are sponsored by G.A.A. members receive the opportunity to learn good sportsmanship along with a sense of responsibility.

Active Year Achieved By Le Cercle Francais

French-speaking students at R.B.U.H.S. voted this year to change their name from French Club to a more ethnic Le Cercle Francais. At the first night meeting Mrs. McComb showed slides of her travels in France and refreshments were served. Annick Relier, exchange student from France to Peidmont, spoke to the members of the club on the French way of life during an activity period meeting in February. Toward the end of the meeting there was an opportunity for all interested students to ask questions.

MARIANNE MILLER wore her prize-winning hat to the "Mad Hatter's Ball."

JANICE JENNESS seems to be enjoying herself at the Christmas dinner held in the Zeeveld home.

The club joined with the Science Club in sponsoring the first "Mad Hatter's Ball" at our school. All students wore their wildest hats. Winner of the hot contest, Marianne Miller, was given a gift certificate redeemable at Hoyt's Music. A trip in the spring to San Francisco, including a French meal and tours of areas of French influence on the American way of life, was the highlight of the clubs activities. As a contribution to the school Le Cercle Francais bought and gave to the library a series of fifteen French reference books about areas of France.

Spanish Club Elects Latin American Leader

The spanish club chose this year to have their good amigo Paco Sandoval, exchange student from Guatemala, as the first club president whose native tongue was Spanish. Paco enthusiastically lead the club in a program for better understanding of Spanish speaking countries.

Most of the returns from club fund raising projects went toward helping two members, Judy Woods and Terry Tipton, finance a six week trip to Torreon, Mexico, where they will study this summer while living in English speaking Mexican homes.

Highlight of the mid-year activities for the club was a Christmas dinner party at which the members helped Paco celebrate his birthday with an "American style" birthday cake. The festivities also included a boisterous game of "break the pinata."

Broadcasting Interests Radio Club Members

"WN6UTH calling WB6VLD", call numbers used in contacting someone on a radio set, is an example of those used in one of Red Bluff High's unique organizations--the Amateur Radio Club. The primary aims of the members are to promote interest in amateur radio and to obtain their amateur radio operator's licenses. Ron Stubbs and Allen Gossett were the first members to pass their novice tests entitling them to communicate by radio in code and to talk on a high frequency. The members also broadened their knowledge of electronics with field trips to the Federal Communication Commission office and to the local radar base. With the help of their advisor, Mr. Robert Friday, the members constructed their first amateur radio receiver and transmitter. Having received their license the latter part of March, the club may now communicate with others on the air.

"Learning To Do, Doing To Learn . . ."

"Learning to Do, Doing to Learn, Earning to Live, Living to Serve" is the motto of the Future Farmers of America. For thirty-seven years F.F.A. has been active in Red Bluff. This year's chapter has ninety-one members raising beef, swine, and sheep, and working on other projects for display and judging at fairs and exhibits throughout California. Over Easter Vacation, March 18 thru the 22, the club's advisors, Mr. Carlton Thomas, Mr. Charles Myers, and Mr. David Bruce, took fifteen members and twelve 4H boys to the Cow Palace to exhibit stock in the Junior Grand National Livestock Show. Because they won the show's judging contest last year, Red Bluff chapter was responsible for putting it on this year. During Future Farmers Week, members of the local chapter were honored with commemorative articles in county-wide publications and their husbandry projects were displayed at Montgomery Wards. At the Parent and Son Banquet, May 11, achievement awards were presented and Rust Murchison showed colored slides of his European tour during the summer. This event brought an enjoyable climax to a year of prosperity for the local F.F.A. chapter.

Debators Tackle Foreign Aid Issue

For providing the opportunity for all interested students to participate in all types of speech and debate activities, the Debate and Speech Club was established. Each year one topic is chosen by the National Forensic League which members of the club debate with various schools and organizations. At every debate this year the participants were prepared with pros or cons on "Foreign Aid." Vicki Wray, an active Debate and Speech Club member, won this year's Lion's Club Speech Festival Club Contest.

Creativity was the main objective of the Young Artists this year. Work days held after school provided a supplementary means of fulfilling the goal. The members of the club worked hard on their Homecoming float, coming up with the unique idea of "Boot the Wolves." The annual Mardi Gras, one of Red Bluff High's biggest events, was a great success, the theme being "Psychedelic Color." Traveling was a common occurrence as the club journeyed to San Francisco, Sacramento, and Chico to visit museums and art exhibits. Late spring the club held an art show which gave artists from elementary to high school level a chance to exhibit their work.

Second Annual Ski Swap Proves Successful

One of the largest clubs at Red Bluff Union High School is the Ski Club, with a membership totaling about ninety-five people. The club held its second annual "Ski Swap" in December. This event is an opportunity for local students and interested people in the community to sell, trade, or buy good used ski equipment for a moderate price. The swap is the club's only money-making project besides the membership drive. Another project of the club was sponsoring the Annual Giant Junior Slalom at Mt. Lassen. The purpose of the club is to promote interest and skill in the sport of skiing.

The purpose of the Photo Club is to promote an interest in photography as a fine art and hobby. It is a fairly new organization at Red Bluff High School, and consists of approximately twenty-five members including its officers, who are Pres. Robert Bird, V. Pres. Bob Shephard, Sec. Vicky Pettitt, and St. Council Representative, Mike Smith. At the meetings they discuss the many aspects and operations of photography. Expert advice on picture taking, camera settings, and dark room technique are given by the advisors Mr. Hughes and Mrs. Call. Special sessions are spent in the darkroom learning to develop and bring the members photographic efforts.

At the onset of the school year the Photo Club launched its membership to the winner of a week-long contest to catch students in the funniest candid poses.

Tennis Club Conducts Clinic

The R.B.U.H.S. Tennis Club had the advantage of being small, yet active. Those present at the spring tennis clinic were given special attention in the teaching of the technique and strategy of the game. The purpose of the club is to promote interest in tennis and the members tried to fulfill their objective by building a broom shelter on the courts.

Math Club Calculates Great Year

The Math Club, members of Mu Alpha Theta, a national math organization, spent a busy year with activities aimed at knowledge and fun. The club-sponsored dance during the early part of the year proved a great success and the pie sale held in early spring helped to augment the club's funds. Evening meetings with guest speakers were a regular part of the club schedule.

Nursing is a challenging and exciting field which gives qualified persons the opportunity to provide care and comfort for the sick. Nurses are in great demand in their profession and organizations such as the Future Nurses Club seek to stimulate interest in professional nursing and allied medical fields. The club attempts to aid students in understanding the types of training available under accredited programs. Activities included a Christmas project of giving baskets of food to needy families and the club dance held January 27.

Science Club provides many opportunities enabling students to broaden their interests in science. The members pass on to others the appreciation of the importance of science and contribute to the advancement of scientific knowledge through research and developments. This year several club members engaged in Science Fair projects on which they spent many exhausting hours in an effort to achieve success. One of their cultural activities involved a field trip to the Radar Base where they studied the area pertinent to their chosen science profession. Along with science-involved activities, the club shared a dance with the French Club as a money-making project.

To help individuals improve personal, family, and community living for now and in the future is the over-all purpose of the Future Homemakers of America. This purpose was fulfilled by various activities throughout the year, some of which were a "Rush Week" to improve chapter membership, a faculty smorgasboard held in honor of United Nations Day, and a Luau, a Hawaiian-style family night. Consequently, the members of the club enjoyed a successful year as FHA girls.

Class Of '67

Thanks

Mr. Eggers . . .

THE CLASS OF 1967 owes a great deal to Mr. Eggers for all his time and effort in helping our class with so many of its activities. Our class had the great honor of winning the Homecoming Sweepstakes twice in a row. Much of the credit for that accomplishment goes to this man who gave so freely of his time. As our junior class advisor, we all came to know Mr. Eggers well. Now, as we are graduated from this high school, we wish to say "thank you" to him and to dedicate this Senior section to our friend--Mr. Richard L. Eggers.

. . . And

Mr. White

AS WE, the Senior class, look back up the long stairway that leads into the past and our high school years, we remember many things. Our apprehensions and excitements were channeled in the right direction by the encouraging words of Mr. White. His wisdom in helping us in the choices of our subjects is now, more than ever, evident. His counsel as we struggled with decisions which will affect the rest of our lives will prove ever valuable. Realizing this, we dedicate, with our respect and gratitude, this Senior section to our counselor --Mr. Raymond White.

"Action" Is Our Password

BILL ULCH and Jack Burgess carefully prepare an art assignment.

TWILA REED, respected by girls in her class, was chosen for the Daughters of the American Revolution Award.

RED BLUFF was well represented at Boys' State by Jim Todd.

SUSAN BOER was chosen to represent our school at Girls' State.

PREPARING FOR COLLEGE is a full time job for all Seniors. Glenda Wilson checks a college catalogue to see what she must do in order to be ready for college next year.

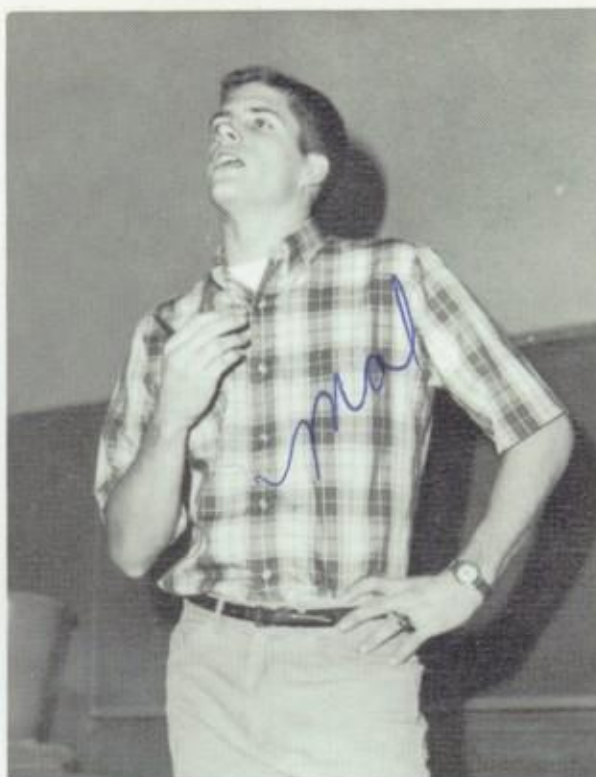

A SCAVENGER HUNT was the main attraction of the Senior Halloween Party given at Tari Calkin's house.

"CONGRATULATIONS VICTORIOUS FIFTH PERIOD" was the inscription on the cake which Mr. Penner's class won for having all their Senior pictures taken first.

STUDENTS enjoyed many speeches given by Annick Relier, a French exchange student who visited our school for one week.

OUR CLASS GIFT to Red Bluff High is a Spartan statue created by Hobart Brown.

Because of his interest in all types of school functions, DAN REDDEN was chosen MOST VERSATILE.

SUSAN BOER's many activities helped her to obtain the title MOST VERSATILE.

Because of her acting ability, JULEE HOLLINGSWORTH was selected MOST TALENTED.

Painting the sign for our class Homecoming float, BILL ULCH shows the skills which aided him in being chosen MOST TALENTED.

retary; Nancy Fritzell, president; and Terry Krom, treasurer. Standing behind the car are Mr. Cecil and Mrs. Call, advisors. Not pictured is Mrs. Couse, advisor.

JAN TEISSEIRE, A.F.S Representative, shows school spirit at our football games.

This year the junior class has participated in many of the activities of Red Bluff High School. Their first big event was the entering of their float in the Homecoming Parade. Next was the Harvest Ball in which they supported their candidate for queen, Carolyn May. They ended the year by joining into the fun and excitement of Junior-Senior Night. The juniors have experienced three successful years of participation in school activities, and they now look forward to their biggest year of all.

Sophomores made an all-out effort to welcome the freshmen and to introduce them to one aspect of school activities when they sponsored the Freshman Welcome Dance. By providing the queen for the Harvest Ball, and by taking first place in the class division for their homecoming float, the sophomores displayed their varied and unquestionable talents. In the spring they scrubbed hard at their car wash which proved to be a successful financial venture. Although much time and effort were devoted to school activities, they did not neglect their academic responsibilities; thus, the sophomores maintained their high achievement level.

Frosh Prove Cooperative And Eager

During their first year at Red Bluff High School, freshmen were confronted with many new and varied challenges. This year has actually been their stepping stone toward becoming a part of the school's activities. Although they entered school with a feeling of apprehension, their confidence and spirit was heightened through participation in school affairs. They were introduced into the "swing of things" by the sophomores who sponsored the Freshman Welcome Dance. The freshmen quickly proved themselves cooperative and eager by entering into the homecoming activities, their first important challenge. By Christmas vacation they were considered a component of the school organization and they had earned the right to participate in the numerous school activities, both academic and extracurricular.

RUTH BRETCHES and Diana Brent agree that BRAINERD'S on Main Street is the best place in town to buy apparel.

TOD DOLLING listens intently as Don Jones shows him one of the exquisite watches to be found at JONES JEWELRY, 748 Main Street.

"JUST MY SIZE!" Steve Cassel and Wayne Rishel know that LEE TUCKER'S is the place to find fine men's clothes. It is located at 701 Main Street.

EARL BAUMGARTEN demonstrates one of the various items sold at ELMORES PHARMACY, 401 Walnut Street.

CHARLOTTE HARRIS and Doris Williams know that AFFILIATED BROKERS is the place to go for all your real estate needs. It is located at 220 So. Main Street

"WHERE'S THE PLAYGROUND?" wonder Michelle McGlynn and Dale Sinclair as they display the fine toys, among other sundry items, available at SPROUSE REITZ, 330 Walnut Street and the Antelope Shopping Center.

LOOKING PRETTY as a picture are Becky Brock and Lolly Ammerman as they display one of the custom frames at RICHMOND'S STUDIO, 629 Main Street.

"AH! Revenge with a KL-300 chain saw from CHET'S CHAIN SAW, Highway 99E," says Rick Kramer as he eyes John Eaton.

"COLOR US PINK AND GREEN," say Bert Owens and Jim Alford, looking at the complete art supplies found in HOWELL'S PAINT STORE, 1015 Walnut Street.

DALE'S INSURANCE, 644 Main Street, will insure anything. Well, almost anything.

"WHAT DO you usually keep in the trunk of a car from POVEY'S CHEVROLET?" wonder Robin and Laurie Povey.

NO WONDER Bill Gaines is not a barber at THE WHITE PALACE, 520 Walnut Street, where they only employ the best. There Brad Thorne will assuredly find an efficient staff ready to help him.

KATHY KERBER and Marilyn Reid observe the finest in trees, plants, and shrubs at GLOVER'S NURSERY, 735 Rio. The Glovers are eagerly waiting to serve you.

DAN and Judy Lang deliver the most advanced appliances from LANG'S APPLIANCE CENTER 617 Walnut.

NANCY FRITZELL and Terry Krom delight in the luxury of a 1967 Mustang. Remember--you're ahead in a Ford all the way, so visit HANKINS MOTOR CO., 455 South Main.

DANNY PADILLA is confident that the J. C. PENNY CO., 840 Main St. has the finest in men, women, and childrens' clothing.

CINDY WEMPLE and Brenda Morehouse display some of the many beautiful flowers at the RED BLUFF FLOWER SHOP, 516 Walnut. Here you can find flowers for any occasion.

TERRY TIPTON and Gail Burchfield admire the teen fashions at MODE O' DAY, 407 Walnut.

BARBARA FOSS and Julee Hollingsworth are revved up and rarin' to go on a Triumph from JOHNNIE ROSS MOTORCYCLE SHOP, 625 Walnut St.

KATHLIN HAMPTON and Wemkea Farris say "Happiness is a counterful of cosmetics" from EHORN'S PHARMACY, 434 Walnut St., where the finest merchandise is always to be found.

KATHY FURST and Kit Patton say that the best place to trade in your wampum for hand-crafted items and beautiful gifts is the BONANZA TRADING POST, Bonanza Village, Hwy. 99E.

PAT JOHNSTONE and Linda Flynn know that the place for lipsmackin' food is A&W ROOT BEER, 158 Main St., where, of course, the best root beer is served.

MIKE GAGE and Mike Metherd are "dusting off" the display for AAA SIGNS, 876 Olive St., where you will find the finest in sign painting.

PATTY BOHL and Carolyn McGarva are certain the best service is to be had at BERG'S SHELL SERVICE, 545 Main.

ATHLETE JACK BURGESS knows that only the best quality goods are sold at BOB'S SPORT SHOP, 645 Main St.

BEING SO INTENT with her reading, Janice Ewing doesn't realize that she is sitting under the drier with no rollers at BEAUTY UNLIMITED, 335 Elm St.

GLENDA WILSON and Sharon Peart know that for the best fire protection in town BUFFUM AND HARRIS, 224 South Main St., is the place to go.

MARGO AND CARMEL GROWNEY feel that for the best trade-in, GEO. GROWNEY MOTORS, 1160 Main St., tops all the others.

JOANNE WILLHITE and Patty Bunting seem to be content with the fact that WING TRAILER SALES, 1375 So. Main, will give them a good deal on an inexpensive off-campus home on wheels.

HILLBILLY WOMEN know that FOSTER'S OLD-FASHIONED FREEZE, 1060 Main St., makes the best pizza burgers in town.

JOLEEN AND NANELL Zeeveld try out one of the many motorized products to be found at RED BLUFF AUTO ELECTRIC, INC., 946 Washington Street.

TOYING WITH TRUCKING on a small scale are Tina Little and Jeri Younger at EVENSON AND YOUNGER, where life-size farm and construction equipment may be found, 205 Kimball Road.

BECKY RIPLEY and Jeannie Reid have discovered that besides a huge array of record supplies, HOYT'S MUSIC AND ELECTRONICS also carry a fine selection of musical instruments and sheet music.

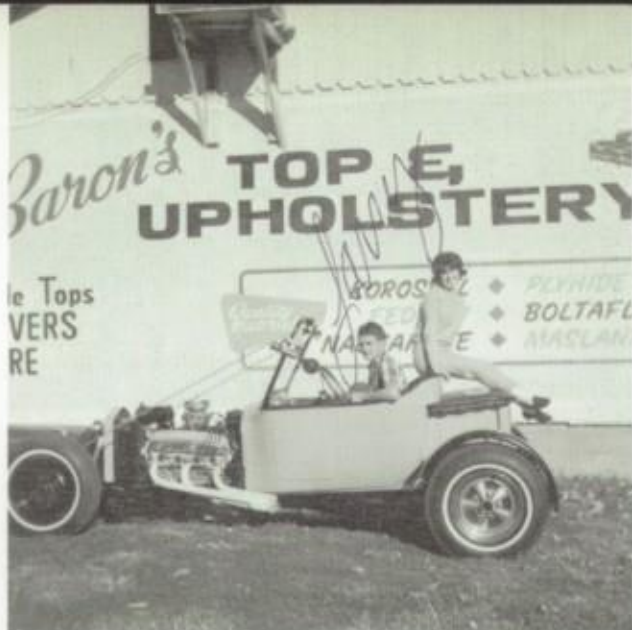

BUD LENGTAT and Charles Wright inspect some of the heavy equipment used in the many construction projects done by L. T. ANDERSON CONSTRUCTION COMPANY, 545 David Avenue.

THESE THREE dapper dandies, Jon Hedlund, Cathy Doerr, and Dayton Call, are the picture of debonair self-assurance in svelte dress clothes from THE PLAZA TOGGERY, Riverside Plaza.

YOU WILL always find these live mannequins, Shari Hall and Pat Gier, waiting to help you at MONTGOMERY WARDS in the Riverside Plaza.

THIS CAR just wasn't made for back-seat drivers, so Kay Walker has to improvise. That doesn't bother her, though, since that luscious upholstery from BARON'S TOP & UPHOLSTERY, Musick and South Jackson, makes her job easy. If you think Kay is enjoying herself, How about Larry Brown in that dreamy drivers' seat? Remember Baron's promise: "If it's difficult, we do it immediately. If it's impossible, it takes a little longer."

JANICE FOSTER knows what contentment really is. She has found "her" stereo at HAL'S APPLIANCES, 423 Walnut St., where the selection is always best.

GARY COLBERT snickering? No, that's just a friendly smile like the ones you will get when you go to the ANTELOPE VALLEY RICHFIELD, 205 HWY 99E. They even like you if you wear an army helmet. Ask Bob Harris!

TARI CALKINS was delighted by the personal touch to the atmosphere at SHOFF'S ELECTRIC & APPLIANCE CO., 350 Walnut St.

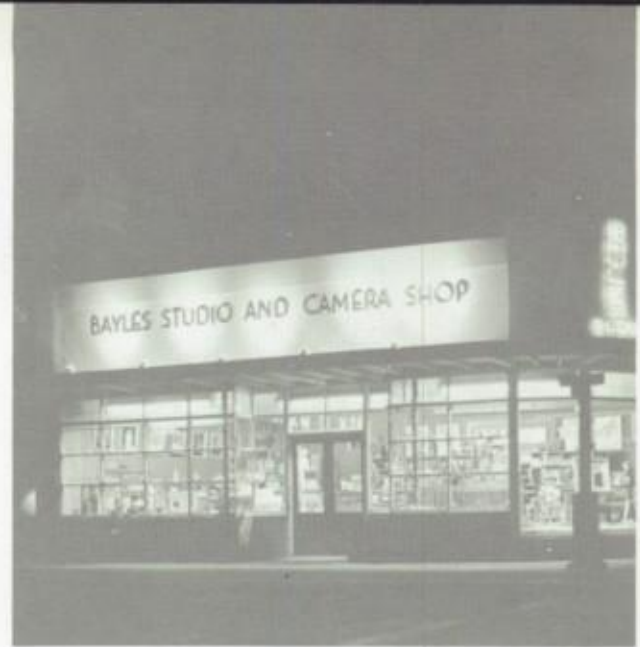

DEPENDABLE IS the word describing BOOTS LIVESTOCK TRANSPORTATION, corner of Gurnsey and Gilmore. Years of hard work have established a trustworthy reputation for this trucking operation; but don't let that convince you. Try it and see.

THE WESTERN garb in NORVELL AND HUNTER, 724 Main St., brought out the "Little Joe" in Malcolm Manwell. That's not surprising, since Norvell and Hunter has something to please everybody.

PHIL TAYLOR, manager of SAMBO'S, 200 South Main, makes his greatest effort to provide a good atmosphere and fine food for his patrons. Here he serves Kathy Young and Mark Scholeman.

BAYLES STUDIO AND CAMERA SHOP, 900 Walnut St., is always ready to capture memories for you with the finest portraits and photo developing service.

WITH CHECK-OUT boys like Bob Harris working at FARMER'S MARKET, 616 Cedar St., you are assured fast service, a fine selection of top quality foods, and no broken eggs!

JIM WIGGETT is learning the tricks of the trade as he looks over the books with his father, Fred Wiggett, (doing business as HENRY C. SWAIN INSURANCE CO. 320 Walnut St.).

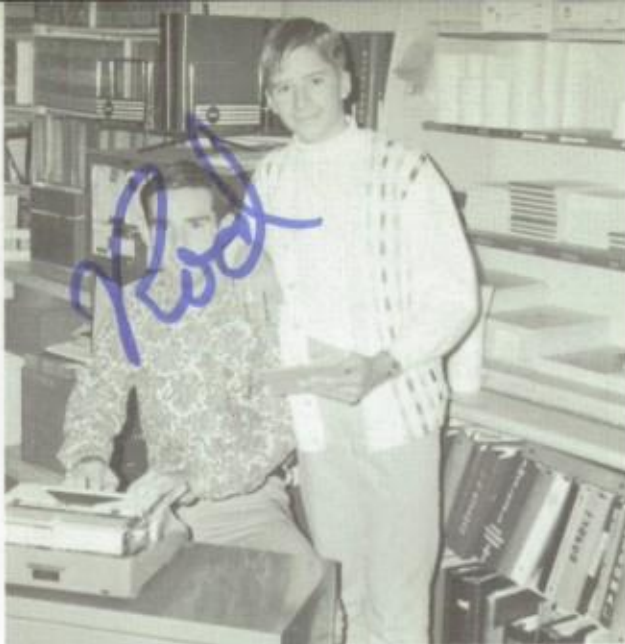

MARTI CAMPBELL and Don Massie pause to admire this handsome hand-crafted chest on display at W. C. FICKERT & SON, 623 Main St. Phone 527-3243.

STIKE! Pat Jenkins practices her form as she rolls another winning ball down a lane at LARIAT BOWL, 365 South Main, where good facilities and loads of fun are always in store for bowlers of all ages.

ROD MILLER and Dave Shinn agree that happiness is a fabulous typewriter from KEMP'S STATIONERY, 632 Main St.

LINDA EUBANKS and Sylvia Forsmann show that the competent staff at ESPLANADE CLEANERS, 214 South Main, bag all cleaning as a protective measure.

TRICIA JARRELL and Lee Krom dance for joy over all the wonderful items that can be found at ZUCKWEILER'S DEPARTMENT STORE, 747 Main St.

Walter,
Well, we made it through Biology, huh? It was lots of fun in there? Maybe we can get a class with you next year. You really seem like a sweet boy, so stay that way. Peretta Bert TWILA AND MARAE Reed are fascinated by the magnificent pocketbooks found at REED'S NEWS AGENCY, 660 Main St.

THE DICTUM EST staff is delighted with the delicious menu found at the KREME KING, 248 South Main.

FOR FAST, fair, and friendly service, go to FARMERS INSURANCE GROUP, Herchel L. Jones, 216 South Main.

BOB TIPTON gives Bill Fleharty an earful about the great service he will find at JERRY'S RICHFIELD SERVICE, 616 Walnut St.

TRUDY CROOK helps Bruce Grissom check out Walter Baker's groceries at HOLIDAY MARKET, 738 Walnut St., where quality food and service is top-notch.

LEARNING THE TRICKS of the trade are Diane McGregor and Carol Stephenson at HARTUNG'S BAKERY, 857 Washington St., where they find the most elegant cakes and delicious cookies.

CUTE AS two bugs in a rug are Roberta Boer and Susan Wemple as they wrap up in two of the luxurious throw-rugs on display at RED BLUFF CARPET & DRAPERIES, 601 Walnut St.

TERRY PETTINGER, Joan Sale, and Mary Sale inspect a load of outgoing lumber at LASSEN LUMBER, 365 HWY 99E, which stocks the best variety of building, carpentry, and gardening supplies.

BIG BROTHER Carl helps Marilyn Van Dyke select a pair of high fashion shoes at RY DEL SHOES, Peter Lassen Square, where the newest and most comfortable styles are found.

Special Thanks

We would like to add a special word of thanks to the people who have helped us in the hurry-scurry business of meeting deadlines and paying bills.

First of all, thank-you to the interested and willing staff at Bayles Studio, who never failed to come up with an answer to our photographic needs and problems. Secondly, thanks to our 60 local advertisers for their business and support. Thanks to the R.B.U.H.S. faculty, most of whom were polite and interested in helping us produce this book.

Most important, thanks to the students for being themselves--without whom we could never record a true impression of SCHOOL LIFE '67.
